Underline the adverbs in the story.

Brenton ran excitedly toward the water. Waves crashed loudly in the distance, and birds soared majestically overhead. It was his family's trip to the beach.

Brenton loved splashing in the waves, diving underwater, and digging eagerly for shells in the sand.

He had a small chest with him. He wanted to fill the chest with seashells. Then he would take the seashells to his grandma.

Grandma used to go with them on their beach trips. However, she was on the nursing home now. Brenton knew she would love to have a piece of the beach with her. That's what gave him the idea for the chest of shells.

In the water, Brenton squatted and ran his fingers through sand. He got almost nothing. She did that same thing with her hand.

"Are you looking for seashells?" he asked.

"Yes," she said. "Are you?"

"Yes," he answered.

They searched the shells together.

"Do you want to the beach often?" Brenton asked.

"The summer days," said the girl.

Brenton started to reply, but his fingers touched something hard. He quickly pulled up the object. It was a small shell! Grandma would love to have one of them.

Since he had filled his small chest with seashells for Grandma, he suddenly was to present her with this special treasure.
