In the media, working class immigrant women are often depicted uneducated, conniving and inarticulate. My life, however, as an SFSU graduate student and as a working class immigrant Pilipina American who has supported herself since age 18—speak of a different experience. Watching both my parents slave over 12 hour working days, seven days a week in menial labor jobs just to make rent for a one bedroom apartment was my reality as a child. My parents' work ethic and daily struggles continue to serve as an inspiration for me to strive for a relevant and meaningful education and profession—and to be the first in my family to receive a graduate degree.

Thanks to my parents' encouragement, I was able to graduate cum laude at UCLA with a Psychology and Asian American Studies double major and an Education minor. In my four years at UCLA, I was a five time recipient of the Provost's Honors List. My most rewarding experiences in college, however, were outside of the classroom walls. As a graduating senior I was also recognized with the UCLA Chancellor Service Award, the Pilipino Graduation Enlightenment Award and A. Magazine's Top 10 Student Leader in the Nation for initiating my own community service tutorial project in South Central, Los Angeles – a poor, urban and underserved community. The project was called Project S.E.T. (South Central Evening Tutorial) and we mentored and tutored the children of immigrant parents who were attending evening adult school four nights a week.

Rajarao,2022-12-06 This autobiography is reflective of the many dimensional attitudes of the author Dato Jeyaraj C Rajarao As he recounts his life story it is evident that he has lived a life with passion integrity wit and mischief A life of black and white with very little grey in it The narrative begins with a simple story of love that spans decades It then takes the reader through a young boy s experience of the Japanese occupation of Malaya until she gains independence It is obvious that the political social and economic situation of the period influenced Rajarao as a young boy and helped form his ideologies Rajarao is hard hitting and critical when he conveys his opinions about the activities of the Prime Minister and his cohorts that caused Malaysia to be regarded as the worst kleptocratic country in the world However the reader becomes aware of how much Rajarao loves and despairs for Malaysia as he shares how she is being torn apart by race and religion based policies No doubt there is much that can be regarded as controversial or confrontational but that is inevitable when truth is told The book is intensely personal and immensely interesting He is brutally honest as he admits his mistakes and apologizes This book is recommended reading for the young and the old as it is both a history book as well as an autobiography It is dribbled with sharp observations on life and draws the reader into a different era yet it also educates them and recommends a purpose driven life The Odyssey is certainly most thought provoking enlightening and stimulating Virginia Woolf Thomas Jackson Rice,2018-02-21 Originally published in 1984 Virginia Woolf Guide to Research is a bibliographic guide to the writings and critical reception of the works of Virginia Woolf The guide is a simply organized guide that makes easily accessible a diversified body of critical works on Virginia Woolf The scholarship is organised into key collections based around Woolf s major works of fiction and contains studies from a variety of content including periodicals articles book chapters as well as foreign language books The World in the Curl Peter J. Bowden,1956 Virginia Woolf's Unwritten Histories Anne Besnault,2021-11-04 Virginia Woolf s Unwritten Histories explores the interrelatedness of Woolf s modernism feminism and her understanding of history as a site of knowledge and a writing practice that enabled her to negotiate her heritage to find her place among the moderns as a female artist and intellectual and to elaborate her poetics of the new not as radical rupture but as the result of a process of unwriting and rewriting traditional historiographical orthodoxies Its central argument is that unless we comprehend the genealogy of Woolf s historical thought and the complexity of its lineage we cannot fully grasp the innovative thrust of her attempt to think back through our mothers Bringing together canonical texts such as Orlando 1928 A Room of One s Own 1929 Three Guineas 1938 or Between the Acts 1941 and under researched ones among which stand Woolf s essays on historians and reviews of history books and her pieces on literary history and nineteenth century women s literature this book argues that Woolf s textual conversations with nineteenth century writers historians and critics many of which remain unexplored are interwoven with her historiographical poesis and constitute the groundwork for her alternative histories and literary histories unwritten open textured unacademic and polemical counter narratives that keep track of the past and engage politically with the future United States Code

United States,1995 Women's Healthcare in the Medieval West Monica H. Green,2024-10-28 In this collection of seven major essays one of them published here for the first time Monica Green argues that a history of women s healthcare in medieval western Europe has not yet been written because it cannot yet be written the vast majority of texts relating to women s healthcare have never been edited or studied Using the insights of women s history and gender studies Green shows how historians need to peel off the layers of unfounded assumption and stereotype that have characterized the little work that has been done on medieval women s healthcare Seen in their original contexts medieval gynecological texts raise questions of women s activity as healthcare providers and recipients as well as questions of how the sexual division of labor literacy and professionalization functioned in the production and use of medical knowledge on the female body An appendix lists all known medieval gynecological texts in Latin and the western European vernacular languages The Expository
