The main focus of downsizing has shifted from the private to the public sector The cutbacks began in the Department of Defense Now the goal is a federal civilian workforce reduction of 12 percent by the year 2000 This pioneering study looks at the management of workforce reductions in the public sector both in theory and in practice Three case studies of the Defense Logistics Agency the Bureau of Reclamation and the Food and Drug Administration illustrate the organizational managerial and human dimensions of attempting to improve performance with reduced resources The author draws on extensive interviews with senior executives and middle managers in the three agencies at the General Accounting Office the Office of Personnel Management and the National Performance Review the Senior Executives Association and the Federal Managers Association and scholars and researchers In a larger sense this work pushes the boundaries of knowledge concerning organizational change and makes a significant contribution to organization theory It offers important new insights not only for public sector managers but for organization theorists and management specialists whose work on downsizing has been presumed but not shown to be applicable to the public sector Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2017: Commodity Futures Trading Commission; USDA Office of the Secretary; USDA Office of the Inspector General; USDA Natural Resources and Environment; Farm Credit Administration United States.
