Scope Life Orientation Exam:

Straitjacket George A. Goens, Philip Streifer, 2013-10-03 Public schools have been placed in a straitjacket over the past 30 years through over regulation as a result of the growing power of the federal government over public education expanding court decisions state government legislation school board policies and procedures and the media's influence on public opinion The straitjacket of centralized control and coercive approaches to the problems that public education is facing is not the solution but actually is part of the problem And where achievement is lower than desired this book brings attention to the root cause lack of student preparation so that more resources can be put into catching these kids up rather than into more tests more curriculum development and more administrative staff needed to comply with all of this complexity and growing regulations We must break out of our straitjacket and give schools more flexibility in finding creative and innovative ways to address the needs of students changing times and professional expectations not shackle them through regulatory mandates closed thinking and defective accountability processes

Software Engineering at Google Titus Winters, Tom Manshreck, Hyrum Wright, 2020-02-28 Today software engineers need to know not only how to program effectively but also how to develop proper engineering practices to make their codebase sustainable and healthy This book emphasizes this difference between programming and software engineering How can software engineers manage a living codebase that evolves and responds to changing requirements and demands over the length of its life Based on their experience at Google software engineers Titus Winters and Hyrum Wright along with technical writer Tom Manshreck present a candid and insightful look at how some of the world's leading practitioners construct and maintain software This book covers Google's unique engineering culture processes and tools and how these aspects contribute to the effectiveness of an engineering organization You'll explore three fundamental principles that software organizations should keep in mind when designing architecting writing and maintaining code How time affects the sustainability of software and how to make your code resilient over time How scale affects the viability of software practices within an engineering organization What trade offs a typical engineer needs to make when evaluating design and development decisions

Assessment for Experiential Learning Cecilia Ka Yuk Chan, 2022-09-29 Chan's book explores the challenges in assessing experiential learning deepens our understanding and inspires readers to think critically about the purpose of assessment in experiential learning Experiential learning has been studied and proven to be effective for student learning particularly for the development of holistic competencies i.e. 21st century skills soft skills transferable skills considered essential for individuals to succeed in the increasingly global and technology infused 21st century society Universities around the world are now actively organising experiential learning activities or programmes for students to gain enriching and diversified learning experiences however the assessment of these programmes tends to be limited unclear and contested Assessment plays a central role in education policies and students approach to learning But do educators know how to assess less traditional learning such as service learning entrepreneurship cross discipline or cross cultural projects internships and student exchanges While the current assessment landscape is replete with assessments that measure knowledge of core content areas such as mathematics law languages science and social studies there is a lack of assessments and research that focus on holistic competencies How do we assess students ability to think critically problem solve adapt self manage and collaborate Central to the discussion in this book is the reason students are assessed and how they should be assessed to bring out their best learning outcomes Offering a collection of best assessment practice employed by teachers around the world this volume brings together both theoretical and empirical research that underpins assessment and perceptions of different stakeholders understanding of assessment in experiential learning from students teachers and policymakers The idea of assessment literacy also plays an important role in experiential learning for example reflection is often used in assessing students in experiential learning but how reflection literate are educators are they aware of the ethical dilemmas that arise in assessing students These questions are discussed in detail The volume also introduces a quality assurance programme to recognise student development within experiential learning programmes The book will be particularly informative to academic developers teachers students and community partners who struggle with the development and assessment for experiential learning those who plan to apply for funding in experiential learning and policymakers and senior managements seeking evidence and advice on fine tuning curricular assessment designs and quality assurance The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Integration at the Border Karin de Vries, 2013-07-22 A recent development in the immigration policies of several European states is to make the admission of foreign nationals dependent upon criteria relating to their integration As the practice of integration testing abroad becomes more widespread this book endeavours to clarify the legal implications which have hitherto remained poorly understood and studied The book begins by looking at the situation in the Netherlands which was the first EU Member State to introduce pre entry integration requirements It explores the historical and political origins of the Dutch Act on Integration Abroad and explains how in this national context integration has become a criterion for the selection of immigrants It then examines how integration requirements must be evaluated from the point of view of European and international law including human rights treaties EU migration directives and association agreements and the law on non discrimination The book identifies the legal standards set by these instruments with regard to integration testing abroad and draws conclusions as to the lawfulness of the Dutch
