

Photo Articulation Test, Third Edition (PAT-3)

Publisher/Date:

- PRO-ED, Inc., 8700 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, TX 78758-6897. Published, 1997.

Purpose:

- Individually-administered articulation inventory for children 3-8 years of age.

Provides:

- Measurement of articulation through naming pictures and repeating stimulus words. Voice quality, language use, fluency, and intelligibility are assessed through the test's final items which require the child to verbalize a "story" around stimulus pictures.

Standardization Issues:

- The test's norms were based on 800 children from 24 states, and included children identified with speech-language disabilities. Purportedly, the demographics for the norm sample closely matched US demographics for that time period.

Reliability and Validity Issues:

- Internal consistency estimates for each age-level yielded acceptable reliability results. Examples of content-, criterion-, concurrent-, and construct-validity evidence are cited in the manual and appear sufficient to support its use as an articulation inventory.

Additional Points:

- The authors' statistical analysis for item bias on the basis of gender, race (White/Non-White), and ethnicity (Hispanic/Non-Hispanic) suggested no evidence of bias.
- No data on interrater reliability is reported, however, interscorer reliability (based on 2 scorers independently scoring 20 already-completed protocols) showed a high degree of scoring consistency.
- The test does not provide any specific framework for remedial activities, which lies in the hands of skilled clinicians to develop.
- Item discrimination analysis of the total (standardization) sample suggested that most children made less than 10% errors, suggesting that the test may not be especially sensitive to discriminating variable-degrees of development.
- The test is not normed for dialectical speakers, so care must be taken in interpreting results from children whose language contains natural

Late Preterm Infants Shahirose Sadrudin Premji, 2019-04-17 This volume analyses the distinct care needs of late preterm infants and their parents by reflecting on the best available evidence to inform practice and latest innovations in care. It addresses the spectrum of issues experienced by late preterm infants and their parents and ways to ensure healthy transitions from hospital to community. We define late preterm infants as those born between 34 0/7 to 36 6/7 weeks gestational age. The book uses creative writing prompts and a narrative style to gain insight and be self reflection in and on practice to move the reader to embrace best practices. Issues such as mother's physical and emotional health, father's burden in postpartum period, the work organization of nurses caring for late preterm infants, feeding and jaundice which threaten readmission and neurodevelopmental outcomes of late preterm infants are specifically addressed. Areas of innovation are shared for consideration to prompt readers to think about continuous improvement in quality of care. The book shares local and global perspectives to address the common concerns related to care of late preterm infants and their parents and fosters a partnership in promoting health of late preterm infants and their parents all across the globe. It is intended for any health care providers such as nurses, midwives, physicians and other allied care professionals like health visitors, community health workers.

Children's Speech Sound Disorders Caroline Bowen, 2009-04-13. Caroline Bowen's Children's Speech Sound Disorders will be welcomed by experienced and novice clinicians, clinical educators and students in the field of speech language pathology, speech and language therapy for its practical clinical focus. In response to frequently asked questions about their work, they address key theoretical, assessment, intervention and service delivery issues.

Assessment in Special Education Roger Pierangelo, George A. Giuliani, 2009. This text presents a uniquely practical approach to the topic of Assessment in Special Education. The authors organize the material into a real world story by having each part and chapter of the text reflect the linear chronology of the assessment process used in schools. Unlike other books, this text is organized chronologically to present the overall process in a straight line, a practical and useful pedagogy in itself for the novice teacher. The text provides the practical tools necessary for a new teacher to understand the process of assessment in schools and then learn how to put it all together. It provides future special educators comprehensive coverage of the latest tests and evaluation procedures for all areas of exceptionality for every age group for students with mild, moderate and severe disabilities.
