Dog Eat Dog Niq Mhlongo, 2012-06-13 Dog Eat Dog is a remarkable record of being young in a nation undergoing tremendous turmoil and provides a glimpse into South Africa's pivotal kwaito South African hip hop generation and life in Soweto. Set in 1994 just as South Africa is making its postapartheid transition, Dog Eat Dog captures the hopes and crushing disappointments that characterize such moments in a nation's history. Raucous and darkly humorous, Dog Eat Dog is narrated by Dingamanzu Makhedama Njomane, a college student in South Africa who spends his days partying, skipping class, and picking up girls. But Dingz, as he is known to his friends, is living in charged times and his discouraging college life plays out against the backdrop of South Africa's first democratic elections, the spread of AIDS, and financial difficulties that threaten to force him out of school.

Handbook of Employee Selection James L. Farr, Nancy T. Tippins, 2017-03-27 This second edition of the Handbook of Employee Selection has been revised and updated throughout to reflect current thinking on the state of science and practice in employee selection. In this volume, a diverse group of recognized scholars inside and outside the United States balance theory, research, and practice, often taking a global perspective. Divided into eight parts, chapters cover issues associated with measurement, such as validity and reliability, as well as practical concerns around the development of appropriate selection procedures and implementation of selection programs. Several chapters discuss the measurement of various constructs commonly used as predictors, and other chapters confront criterion measures that are used in test validation. Additional sections include chapters that focus on ethical and legal concerns and testing for certain types of jobs, e.g., blue collar jobs. The second edition features a new section on technology and employee selection. The Handbook of Employee Selection, Second Edition, provides an indispensable reference for scholars, researchers, graduate students, and professionals in industrial and organizational psychology, human resource management, and related fields.

Validation in Language Assessment Antony John Kunnan, 2013-04-03 Validation in Language Assessment contributes to the variety of validation approaches and analytical and interpretive techniques only recently adopted by language assessment researchers. Featuring selected papers from the 17th Language Testing Research Colloquium, the volume presents diverse approaches with an international perspective on validation in language assessment.

Minority Protection in Post-Apartheid South Africa Kristin Henrard, 2002-08-30 Accommodation of population diversity is a vital issue for any multinational society. The legacy of Apartheid in South Africa complicates this effort considerably. Henrard introduces a theoretical framework regarding how to accommodate minority protection in the most appropriate way and analyzes the respective contributions of individual rights, minority rights, and the right to self-determination. Subsequent chapters examine the case study of post-apartheid South Africa and attempt to investigate its constitutional development. Henrard finds that provisions within the 1996 Constitution do acknowledge an interrelation between these three important factors; however, implementation of minority protection policy is often quite a different matter. In seeking appropriate means of minority protection, this study stresses inclusionism integration and the essential right to identity and real equality While Henrard reviews and discusses the entire democratic transformation process in South Africa she cautions that because current developments are characterized by their unsettled nature major transformation and flux analysis of the implementation phase can be only indicative The apartheid history does not in itself inhibit progressive stances on this important issue Still despite the promising nature of the 1996 Constitution the picture that emerges in terms of policy development aimed at minority protection is ambivalent

Dog Eat Dog Nicholas Mhlongo, 2004 Dingz is an average Wits student struggling with money partying with his friends picking up girls skipping lectures making up elaborate excuses for missing exams A bright articulate guy Dingz and his circle of friends sit around drinking and discussing current affairs Aids racism South African politics and history in between some hair raising adventures like being kidnapped by taxi drivers contracting gonorrhea or trying to fake a death certificate A constant backdrop is the subtle and not so subtle racism of the university which threatens to exclude him financially This is an authentic witty slice of life set at the time of the first democratic elections full of interesting perceptions and vivid descriptions and well drawn and believable characters Dingz is an interesting and plausible chap intelligent and likeable but no saint His anger at racism is sometimes over the top but certainly not hard to understand and his cynicism in using the race card is amusing Sometimes he is unpleasant sometimes silly Tipping out an old name on a birthday card to give to his new girlfriend but frequently charming A complex multi faceted personality with plausible flaws and strengths

Adverse Impact James L. Outtz, 2010-06-10 This text is the best single repository for a comprehensive examination of the scientific research and practical issues associated with adverse impact Adverse impact occurs when there is a significant difference in organizational outcomes to the disadvantage of one or more groups defined on the basis of demographic characteristics such as race ethnicity gender age religion etc This book shows based on scientific research how to design selection systems that minimize subgroup differences The primary object of this volume in the SIOP series is to bring together renowned experts in this field to present their viewpoints and perspectives on what underlies adverse impact where we are in terms of assessing it and what we may have learned or not learned about minimizing it

Psychology.
Sielkunde, 2006 Emotions and coping during exams Tobias Ringeisen, Transforming Research Methods in the Social Sciences Angelo Flynn, Sherianne Kramer, 2019-03-01 A look at the research methods in development across the global South Social science researchers in the global South and in South Africa particularly utilise research methods in innovative ways in order to respond to contexts characterised by diversity racial and political tensions socioeconomic disparities and gender inequalities These methods often remain undocumented a gap that this book starts to address Written by experts from various methodological fields Transforming Research Methods in the Social Sciences is a comprehensive collation of original essays and cutting edge research that demonstrates the variety of novel techniques and research methods available to researchers responding to these context bound issues It is particularly relevant for study and research in the fields of applied psychology sociology ethnography biography and anthropology In addition to their unique combination of conceptual and application issues the chapters also include discussions on ethical considerations relevant to the method in similar global South contexts Transforming Research Methods in the Social Sciences has much to offer to researchers professionals and others involved in social science research both locally and internationally

Psychological

Assessment in South Africa Sumaya Laher, Kate Cockcroft, 2013-01-01 This book provides an overview of the research related to psychological assessment across South Africa. The thirty six chapters provide a combination of psychometric theory and practical assessment applications in order to combine the currently disparate research that has been conducted locally in this field. Existing South African texts on psychological assessment are predominantly academic textbooks that explain psychometric theory and provide brief descriptions of a few testing instruments. Psychological Assessment in South Africa provides in depth coverage of a range of areas within the broad field of psychological assessment including research conducted with various psychological instruments. The chapters critically interrogate the current Eurocentric and Western cultural hegemonic practices that dominate the field of psychological assessment. The book therefore has the potential to function both as an academic text for graduate students as well as a specialist resource for professionals including psychologists, psychometrists, remedial teachers and human resource practitioners.

Wrecking Ball Stu

Woolman, 2021-04-29 Wrecking Ball explores in an unprecedented manner a decalogue of wicked problems that confronts humanity: Nuclear proliferation, climate change, pandemics, permanent technological unemployment, Orwellian public and private surveillance, social media that distorts reality, cyberwarfare, the fragmentation of democracies, the inability of nations to curb private power, the failure of multinational institutions to promote collaboration and the deepening of autocratic rule in countries that have never known anything but extractive institutions. Collectively or even severally these wicked problems constitute crises that could end civilisation. Does this list frighten you or do you blithely assume that tomorrow will be just like yesterday? Wrecking Ball shows that without an inclusive system of global governance the collective action required to solve those wicked problems falls beyond the remit of the world's 20 inclusive democracies, 50 flawed democracies and 130 extractive elitist autocracies. Flawed democracies and autocracies that already struggle to produce goods necessary for their own citizens to flourish are simply incapable of committing to international arrangements that address the existential threats posed by the decalogue of wicked problems. This then is our children's inheritance: Dystopias far far worse than the polities that we ourselves have known. What if anything can mitigate the harms that are our legacy? Wrecking Ball offers as an answer a ground breaking analysis of South Africa's political economy. It demonstrates that this country's elitist and extractive political and economic institutions not only make resolution of ongoing domestic crises unattainable, likewise they make meaningful responses to wicked problems impossible. Smart people think they have all the answers. Without laboring under any such illusions, Martin Luther King Jr eloquently opined: 'The arc of the moral universe is long but it bends towards justice.' But what will happen? King would acidly ask if we continue to dawdle and simply run out of time. Wrecking Ball similarly operates under no such smart pretenses and undeterred and unmatched ventures into terrains traversed by truly great political economists: Smith, Ricardo, Marx and Keynes. By knitting together what we all know to be the facts with cutting edge theory in economics sociology history and political science the book paints an unflinching portrait of where we are and where we are headed Are we ready to be honest with ourselves about the likely future of this overheated overpopulated planet
