International Interview Essay

For my international interview, I chose Mr. John Reeser of the Jindal School of Management (JSCM) at The University of Texas at Dallas. Mr. Reeser is JSCM's Director of Budget and Financial Affairs. Although his work focus mainly on finance, all of the things I interviewed him on strengthened my resolve to become an accountant and act professionally.

Mr. John Reeser went to Newark Senior High in Newark, Delaware. He went for his undergraduate degree in finance at Drexel University in Pennsylvania. He immediately went for his Master's degree at The University of Rochester in New York after finishing his undergraduate degree. "What motivated me to get a college degree was the Vietnam War and expectations as a son. It was an opportunity for a better life for my family," said Mr. Reeser.

Mr. Reeser did not always know what he wanted to become after leaving high school. He changed his major multiple times while in college. It was during his on-up with PepsCo that he saw how interesting and challenging the work of the people working in finance are, which contributed to him going for his Master's right after getting his Bachelor's (Reeser).

After getting his Master degree in Finance, Mr. Reeser got a job as a financial analyst at Doubleday. He got the job without the help of networking or an internship, but said that they are extremely important to securing one (Reeser). "I am an introvert, but the job forces me to become sociable," replied Mr. Reeser when asked about whether or not he consider himself to be sociable.

Deciphering Goffman Ramon Vargas Maseda,2017-03-27

Challenging the classical conception of Goffman s sociology this book offers a new interpretation based on a comprehensive examination of previous interpretations and critical assessments of Goffman s work Epistemologically the book acknowledges the important but overlooked influences of both pluralism and particularly of pragmatism where not only Simmel but also James and Dewey played a pivotal role in his work thus rooting Goffman s thought in symbolic interactionism With attention to two central theoretical principles underlying his work the pertinence of studying social interaction as given and the need and warrant to study face to face interaction in its own right the author presents a rigorous examination of Goffman s own writings to uncover the clear and recognizable process of systematization that Goffman followed throughout In this manner the book reveals the structure of Goffman s theory by way of mapping the main themes topics concepts empirical referents methodological principles and theoretical frameworks relevant to the structure of his thought A fresh examination of the structure of Goffman s work that sheds light on the core of his unique approach this new study of one of the central figures of sociology constitutes an important contribution to scholarship in social theory and the history of sociology Sociological Abstracts Leo P.
