Study on impacts of farmer-led research supported by civil society organizations Wettasinha, C.,Waters-Bayer, A.,van Veldhuizen, L.,Quiroga, G.,Swaans, K.,2015-01-15

Decades of scientific research related to agriculture and natural resource management have brought limited benefits to smallholder farmers including crop farmers fishers livestock keepers and other resource users Therefore donors policymakers and civil society organizations CSOs such as farmer organizations and nongovernmental organizations NGOs are urging the formal research sector to make its work more useful to smallholder farmers Many institutions of agricultural research and development are now seeking ways to engage more closely with smallholders in order to conduct research that is more relevant for and accessible to them and are seeking examples and good practices as sources of learning Some examples of research that is focused on smallholders and in which the process is co managed and driven by smallholders can be found in informal research initiatives specifically those which are facilitated by CSOs The purpose of this study was to identify such examples of informal agricultural research and development that could be documented and thus made accessible to formal researchers This report also describes farmer led research findings and their dissemination and analyzes available evidence on the impact of farmer led approaches to agricultural research and development on rural livelihoods local capacity to innovate and adapt and influence on governmental institutions of agricultural research and development
