Business and Policy Solutions to Climate Change Thomas Walker, Stefan Wendt, Sherif Goubran, Tyler Schwartz, 2022-03-01 This edited book aims to ignite both an academic and practitioner oriented discussion regarding the question how the business and government sector can adapt to today's fast changing climate. Specifically the collection seeks to explore how businesses and policy makers can prepare for a world where freshwater is scarce, extreme weather events are common, floods and wildfires are frequent and global sea levels rise by more than two meters. In addition to assessing incremental approaches it explores strategies that employ interdisciplinary and innovative solutions to climate change adaptation. The chapters included in this book examine and propose business and policy solutions for climate induced economic, technical, urban and societal challenges. It draws on an international range of prominent authors and therefore will be of interest for academics and practitioners working in the field of sustainability management, sustainable finance, sustainable operations management, food management strategy and environmental management. It can also serve as a valuable guide for practitioners and policymakers in those fields.

Climate Change Solutions and Environmental Migration Anna Ginty,2021-04-20 This book lifts the taboo on maladaptation a different driver of environmentally induced migration which shines a light on the negative consequences arising from the solutions to climate change adaptation and mitigation policies Through a systematic analysis and critique of existing mitigation and adaptation policies under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC and international development community and supplemented by a small empirical study in Indonesia this book catalogues how maladaptation is manufactured under existing climate change solutions It posits that customary communities in general and women in particular are disproportionately affected by the dominant market driven logics that underscore current climate change solutions adopted by the UNFCCC The injustice of maladaptation is highlighted as multi faceted and explored using political economic social and ecological lenses and the concept of environmental reintegration is also explored as a possible solution to this issue Further possibilities are then presented in the Afterword as a combination of what the new post

R. Islam,M. M. Khan,2019-04-19 It has long been recognized that science is the pursuit of knowledge knowledge is power and power is political However the fantasy of science being apolitical is a hallmark legacy of the enlightenment era an era that romanticized pursuit of knowledge disconnected from the baggage of power politics and dogmatic assertions Yet while the age of information has exponentially increased our access to knowledge we can see as clearly as ever that scientific knowledge is neither apolitical nor dogma free and it certainly is not disconnected from power It is hard to imagine another era when the separation between science and politics has been this blurred as it is today At the same time it is true that no other topic than climate change has been so politically charged with one side dominating the scientific narration and branding anyone opposing the mainstream as a climate change denier and the other standing in staunch defiance that climate change exists In an age of political and scientific turmoil how can we navigate our way to coming towards a more objective understanding of the scientific issues surrounding the climate change debate This book presents the current debate of climate change as scientifically futile on both sides of the scientific and often political spectrum The climate change debate has become like obesity cancer diabetes or opioid addiction which is to say that the debate should not be if these maladies exist but rather what causes them Instead of looking for the cause and making adjustments to remove those causes from our lifestyle a combination of the capitalist drive towards mass production and a lack of identifying the roots of the problems new solutions or substitutes have been proposed as quick fixes to the problems This book identifies the root causes of climate change and shows that climate change is real and it is also preventable but that it can be reversed only if we stop introducing pollutants in the ensuing greenhouse gases The book brings back common sense and grounds scientists to the fundamentals of heat and mass transfer while at the same time disconnecting politicking and hysteria from true scientific analysis of the phenomenon of global climate Climate Projections Based on Emissions Scenarios for Long-Lived and Short-Lived Radiatively Active Gases and Aerosols Hiram Levy II,2009-02 This Synthesis and Assessment Product SAP is part of a series of 21 SAPs produced by the U S Climate Change Science Program CCSP aimed at providing current assessments of climate change science to inform public debate policy and operational decisions These reports are also intended to help the CCSP develop future program research priorities Contents Climate Projects from Well Mixed Greenhouse Gas Stabilization Emission Scenarios Climate Change from Short Lived Emissions Due to Human Activities Findings Issues Opportunities and Recommendations Appendices IPCC Fourth Assessment Report Climate Projections MAGICC Model Description Composition Models Climate Models Scenarios Illustrations REDD+ politics in the media: A case study from Tanzania Demetrius Kweka,2014-02-06 This research is part of the policy component of CIFOR s global comparative study on Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and forest Degradation GCS REDD which is conducting research in 12 countries across Africa Asia and Latin America The media analysis investigates how discourse around REDD policy is framed in the mainstream Tanzanian press identifying media frames and the main actors and their positions on REDD while looking at a range of variables at different levels The study found that Tanzania is actively involved in REDD both by developing supportive policies and by implementing projects on the ground primarily with support from Norway The media reflects the general agreement support for and optimism about REDD by various stakeholders REDD is seen as a source of additional income for local communities and as a mechanism to curb deforestation The main concerns expressed are whether its implementation will be effective and cost efficient and whether benefits will be shared equitably Two major actors were found to be shaping the REDD discourse in Tanzania government agencies and nongovernmental organizations NGOs The study found that REDD discourse in Tanzania revolved around three main meta topics ecology economics and marketing with a strong correlation between REDD and economic growth Deforestation forest conservation and sustainable forest management received more publicity than any other topic followed by funding for REDD and carbon trading Most REDD articles focused on prognosis i e proposing solutions to the problems of deforestation Actors were optimistic and skeptical at the same time viewing REDD as a source of income and a means to curb deforestation but expressing concern about certain issues i e benefit sharing land tenure and carbon rights that leave a lot of unanswered questions about how it will unfold

Nature-Based Solutions for Restoration of Ecosystems and Sustainable Urban Development Thomas Panagopoulos, 2020-06-16 This volume examines the applicability of nature based solutions in ecological restoration practice and in contemporary landscape architecture by bringing together ecology and architecture in the built environment Green infrastructure is used to address urban challenges such as climate change adaptation disaster risk reduction and stormwater management In addition thermal comfort nature based solutions reintroduce critical connections between natural and urban systems In light of ongoing developments in sustainable urban development the goal is a paradigm shift towards a landscape that restores and rehabilitates urban ecosystems The ten contributions to this book examine a wide range of successful cases of designing healthier greener and more resilient landscapes in different geographical contexts from the United States of America and Brazil through various European regions to Singapore and China While some chapters attempt to conceptualize the interconnections between cities and nature others clearly have an empirical focus Therefore this volume provides a rich body of work and acts as a starting point for further studies on restoration of ecosystems and integrative policies such as the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals

Introducing Global Health: Practice, Policy, and Solutions Peter Muennig, Celina Su, 2013-08-12 Introducing Global Health Practice Policy and Solutions is a contemporary overview of the major issues in global public health The book explores how population health might be maximized with the right blend of health system education antipoverty infectious disease urban development governance and incentive based policies It covers topics critical for understanding the state of the world today including wars for natural resources the missing women phenomenon and whether global aid really works The book's case studies focus on developing economies mixed economies and new emerging superpowers Thematic chapters are interwoven with running motifs such as the health risks and benefits associated with different totalitarian capitalist and market socialist economies Moving beyond statistics the book represents a major innovation in the teaching of global health by presenting technical concepts including the incidence and prevalence of disease within the context of more accessible topics such as global poverty This helps students contextualize otherwise challenging but critical concepts such as the burden of infectious disease By encouraging reflection focusing on what works and using activities and exercises Introducing Global Health both teaches fundamentals of global public health and cultivates a policy perspective that is appealing and compelling for today's students
