AREA OF COMPOSITE FIGURES

Quick Review

BASIC FORMULAS Quadrilaterals

$$A = lw$$

Two bases and height are always perpendicular

Triangles

$$A = \frac{1}{2}bh$$

$$A = \pi r^2$$

COMPOSITE SHAPES

A composite figure is a shape that can be separated into two or more smaller shapes. Finding the area of a composite figure is a multi-step process.

1. Decide how you want to split up the big shape into smaller pieces. Carefully label the side lengths that you will need for each piece.
2. Find the area for each section.
3. Use addition or subtraction to calculate the area of the unit you need to know.

DOUBLE-CHECK THAT THE WAY YOU SPLIT UP YOUR COMBINED SHAPES YOU TO HAVE ALL THE MEASUREMENTS YOU NEED TO FIND EACH AREA.

Every problem is a little different and you will need to make an individual plan for each question.

SOMETIMES IT IS EASIER TO FIND THE AREAS OF MISSING PIECES AND ADD THEM UP.

SOMETIMES IT MAY BE EASIER TO FIND THE SUBTRACTION.

COMPOSITE FIGURES

Quick Check

Find the area of each figure.

The shape can be divided in multiple ways. Label the measurements for all of the sides for each split, then calculate the total area with both splits.

Calculate the area of the shaded region for each composite figure.

Freeman,David L. Smith,2019-10-14 The essays in this volume seek to analyze biographical films as representations of historical individuals and the times in which they lived To do this contributors examine the context in which certain biographical films were made including the state of knowledge about their subjects at that moment and what these films reveal about the values and purposes of those who created them This is an original approach to biographical as opposed to historical films and one that has so far played little part in the growing literature on historical films The films discussed here date from the 1920s to the 2010s and deal with males and females in periods ranging from the Middle Ages to the end of the twentieth century In the process the book discusses how biographical films reflect changing attitudes towards issues such as race gender and sexuality and examines the influence of these films on popular perceptions of the past The introduction analyses the nature of biographical films as a genre it compares and contrasts the nature of biography on film with written biographies and considers their relationship with the discipline of history As the first collection of essays on this

The Essential Dürer Larry Silver,Jeffrey Chipps Smith,2011-11-29 Albrecht Dürer 1471-1528 perhaps the most famous of all German artists embodies the modern ideal of the Renaissance man he was a remarkable painter printmaker draftsman designer theoretician and even a poet More is known about his thoughts and his life than about any other Northern European master of his time since he wrote extensively about himself his family's history his travels and his friends His woodcuts and engravings were avidly collected and copied across Europe and they quickly established his reputation as a master Praised in life and eulogized in death by such thinkers as Martin Luther and Erasmus he served Emperor Maximilian and other leading church and secular princes in the Holy Roman Empire Although there is a vast specialized literature on the Nuremberg master The Essential Dürer fills the need for a foundational book that covers the major aspects of his career The essays included in this book written by leading scholars from the United States and Germany provide an accessible up to date examination of Dürer's art and person as well as his posthumous fame The essays address an array of topics from separate and detailed studies of his paintings drawings printmaking and sculpture to broader concerns such as his visits to and interactions with Venice and the Netherlands his personal relationships and his relationships with other artists Collectively these stimulating essays explore the brilliance of Dürer's creativity and the impact he had on his world exposing him as an artist fully engaged with the tumultuous intellectual and religious challenges of his time

Systems Practice: How to Act in a Climate Change World Ray Ison,2010-07-20 It is now accepted that humans are changing the climate of the Earth and this is the most compelling amongst a long litany of reasons as to why collectively we have to change our ways of thinking and acting Most people now recognise that we have to be capable of adapting quickly as new and uncertain circumstances emerge this capability will need to exist at personal group community regional national and international levels all at the same time Systems Practice is structured into four parts Part I introduces the societal need to move towards a more systemic and adaptive governance against the backdrop of human induced climate change Part II unpacks what is involved in systems practice by means of a juggler metaphor examining situations where systems thinking offers useful understanding and opportunities for change Part III identifies the main factors that constrain the uptake of systems practice and makes the case for innovation in practice by means of systemic inquiry systemic action research and systemic intervention The book concludes with Part IV which critically examines how systems practice is or might be utilised at different levels from the personal to the societal The development of our capabilities to think and act systemically is an urgent priority and Systems Practice aims to show how to do systems thinking and translate that thinking into praxis theory informed practical action which will be welcomed by those managing in situations of complexity and uncertainty across all domains of professional and personal concern
