
The Graduate School Essay

The thought of writing a graduate school application essay often paralyzes applicants with anxiety. But the essay is a wonderful opportunity to make your application shine. While transcripts and test scores are important to the decision-making process, the essay gives the graduate school admissions committee a real window into what makes you YOU.

The first step is understanding why the committee asks for the essay. Some essay instructions ask you to respond to questions while others give little guidance about what to write. Read the instructions carefully and respond clearly to posed questions, if applicable. The committee also wants to know how well you express yourself in writing, so make sure what you write is grammatically correct, concise, and well structured. More generally, the essay is your opportunity to call the admissions committee's attention to aspects of your candidacy that they might not otherwise learn from your application. The essay provides the committee insight into what makes you unique. What has brought you to this place in your life? What goals do you hope to achieve? What interesting perspectives will you bring to the program? (Obviously, this will be an essay that only YOU could write!)

How to begin

- Start early! You'll need time to brainstorm about content, write rough drafts, revise, get constructive feedback, and finalize the essay – all before the application deadline.
- Brainstorm content. With the application in mind, generate a list of responses to questions like:
 - What are your dreams, hopes, and aspirations?
 - What life experiences have had a major impact on your goals?
 - What challenges have you overcome?
 - What events and people have motivated or influenced your education and/or work?
 - What traits, work habits, and attitudes will insure your success in reaching your goals?
 - What do you hope to gain from graduate study?
 - What about you is unique?

Not all your responses will find their way into your essay, but the process of articulating them should give you a mental database from which to draw meaningful information into the essay.

- The beginning should be terrific. Grab attention and interest right from the start. But relax – you don't have to write the beginning first. After you've written the middle parts of the essay, a terrific introduction will likely come to you.
