Central Asia and the Caucasus Masami Kojima,2000 Urban air pollution is a matter of concern in many of the newly independent sates of Central Asia and the Caucasus The poor quality of the fuel used by the largely poorly maintained vehicle stock just worsens emissions problems It is estimated that nearly 40 000 people die prematurely and about 100 000 people fall ill every year in the big cities of the region as a result of exposure to excessive air pollution The projections for the next 10 to 15 years are for higher vehicle numbers and increased vehicle use leading to a steady rise of damaging pollutants if current policies regarding fuel specifications and vehicle standards are not addressed quickly This report gives the World Bank s assessment of the problem faced by the countries in the region It puts forward a framework for short and medium term measures for improving fuel quality and vehicle emission s performance The Transportation of Nuclear Materials ,1984 A reference document for transportation information and factors that can be used to assess the impacts of transporting nuclear materials National Energy Strategy ,1991 Transportation Energy Conservation Data Book ,1977
