Sovereignty and Command in Canada-US Continental Air Defence, 1940-57 Richard Goette,2018-07-09 The 1940 Ogdensburg Agreement entrenched a formal defence relationship between Canada and the United States But was Canadian sovereignty upheld Drawing on untapped archival material Sovereignty and Command in Canada US Continental Air Defence 1940 57 documents the close and sometimes fractious relationship between the two countries Richard Goette challenges prevailing perceptions that Canada s defence relationship with the United States eroded Canadian sovereignty He argues instead that a functional military transition from an air defence system based on cooperation to one based on integrated and centralized command and control under NORAD allowed Canada to retain command of its forces and thus protect Canadian sovereignty Goette combines historical narrative with conceptual analysis of sovereignty command and control systems military professionalism and civil military relations In the process he provides essential insights into the Royal Canadian Air Force s paradigm shift away from its Royal Air Force roots toward closer ties with the United States Air Force and the role of the nation s armed forces in safeguarding its sovereignty

The Schizophrenic Society Roger Boyd, 2015-03-04 Why does humanity seem unable to step off its unsustainable path even with so many direct symptoms from climate change to ecological destruction and peak resources becoming more and more apparent Striving to answer this question The Schizophrenic Society marshals many different insights from such areas as history sociology politics philosophy psychology economics and anthropology The resulting story is an important one that exposes both human and societal shortcomings when grappling with the fundamental issue that we are faced with the continued growth in humanity's claims upon Earth's finite resources In plain language the author takes us on a journey back to the dawn of agriculture and complex societies and demonstrates how over time humanity has built up a set of delusional beliefs about its ability to control the natural world of which it is an integral part He explains how the recent exploitation of fossil fuels has provided a last hurrah for human civilization and its delusional beliefs and then goes on to challenge the faulty logic of the new religion of Economics which derides anyone who questions the possibility of infinite growth on a finite planet Boyd then takes us into the future where he shows us what life will look like if humanity maintains its current path succumbing to modern media's continuous push for consumption He warns us that change will not be easy that the rich and powerful benefit in the short term from the status quo and that to expect them to readily adopt changes that will reduce their wealth and power for the good of the whole is naive

The Epistemology of Violence Beth M. Titchiner, 2019-03-18 This book provides an in depth multidisciplinary framework and case study analysis for understanding the root causes of violence in schooling Drawing on critical theory psychology neuroscience and learning theory the author provides a holistic analysis of how violent epistemology and the non conducive circumstances that it produces can be seen to be at the roots of violence in societies and social institutions such as schools Chapter 1 outlines how current and historical theories of violence and interventions based on them have failed due to their inability to properly conceptualise the root causes of violence Chapters 2 addresses this by providing a new epistemic and methodological framework for studying violence Chapters 3 and 4 then demonstrate how violence can be best conceptualised as a problem of specifically violent epistemology and the non conducive social circumstances that it fosters Chapters 5 7 demonstrate in practice how violent epistemology results in multiple manifestations of violence at the global national local and ultimately classroom level Chapter 8 concludes the book by presenting an early conceptualisation of non violent epistemology and what fostering this might look like in practice
