

Gun Violence and Control

3 pages | 733 words

Today I'm going to share some information that might be mind-boggling on gun violence and control. Specifically, I will discuss our current gun right issues that we have with gun violence and why we need to start generating ideas toward a solution. We have a serious issue on our hands. Every day 32 Americans are killed by a gun. The news reports frequently on a shooter that walked into some sort of building and started shooting while the people inside were helpless. Today I will discuss some of the unbelievable statistics and a few interesting ways of looking at gun control. To start off, I will discuss the current problem we have. A recent example of a need for a gun control law happened in a school in Ohio. A frustrated student took his grandfather's gun and killed three students at his school. He was able to get to this gun because it was easy to get ahold of as it was not locked in any way. Keeping the gun locked up was not a law so there were no laws broken, but if there had been it may not have happened. That is setting our children up for fear and possible disaster. Parents live in worry that their child will be involved in a school shooting and schools are constantly trying to secure the grounds to prevent being victims and the next school on the news. Also in Ohio, an eleven-year-old girl was shot and killed by a straight bullet near a school. This is starting to be very common. Controlling the safety regulations for gun owners must happen. Gun control is really only the government making protective rules that gun owners have to abide by. This will prevent some of the issues by just adding a few simple laws that don't affect the gun owner in a negative way. The Brady Campaign is an organization created after a man protecting President Reagan was shot. A man named Colin Goddard, who works for the Brady Campaign, is a survivor of the Virginia Tech shooting that killed 32 people. He said this while being interviewed by MSNBC about the Chardon High School shooting: 8 kids die every day from gunfire. You have 32 Americans that die every day. That is equal to the amount of people killed in the Virginia Tech shootings. Except that the Virginia shootings happened once and 32 still die each day. In his interview, he tries to point out how the accessibility to guns is so easy and so dangerous. Now, the University of Arizona is trying to pass a bill that allows students to carry firearms on campus. To some this looks like a form of protection, but to others it seems dangerous because college students are under pressure, often drink and are more likely to use the weapon due to poor mental health.

Here Are Some Shocking Statistics

There are estimates that 68% of the 16,929 murders in the year 2007 were committed with firearms. A prison survey was conducted and state prison inmates claim that those possessing a gun the source of the gun was...

Lilia Savova, Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Developing Creative Thinking to Improve Academic Writing Azza Abugharsa PhD, 2018-05-08. Developing Creative Thinking to Improve Academic Writing Part Two Advanced Level textbook helps enhance lateral thinking within the given contextual frame in order to promote students' intellectual challenge to produce a comprehensive understanding about the topic. This facilitates flexible thinking required to write academic assignments in which arguments are presented for thorough analysis. Since rigid judgments can lead to fossilized views, it is recommended to emphasize the concept that all opinions are correct from the points of view of their holders. In this regard, this book helps college students practice improving their triangular thinking skills, which emphasize evaluation of all the aspects of the topic in an equal pattern. Furthermore, this book is useful for ESL college students as well as native speakers of English as it reinforces transformational learning principles which highlight education by inspiration rather than information. Such a strategy can motivate the students to become more creative, more practical, and more resourceful and enable them to transform their learning-related thinking abilities and attitudes in order to come to a better understanding of themselves and the world.
