Using Narrative Therapy in Practice

— THE TREE OF LIFE —

The Leaves
The people who are the most important to you in your life. What influence do they have on the way you live? Are there leaves in the world who have passed away?

The Trunk
Your skills, strengths, and abilities. What are you good at, proud of?

The Branches
Your hopes, wishes, and goals for yourself and others. What are they and how can you achieve them?

The Fruit
The gifts and talents you have learned from important people.

The Roots
Where you come from and your family. What roots do you have and how are they important to you? What part do they influence who you are today?

The Ground
Your present life and the activities you do daily. How much is the ground?

The Tree Climbing Cure Andy Brown,2022-12-15 Our relationship with trees is a lengthy complex one Since we first walked the earth we have at various times worshiped them felled them and even talked to them For many of us though our first memories of interacting with trees will be of climbing them Exploring how tree climbers have been represented in literature and art in Europe and North America over the ages The Tree Climbing Cure unpacks the curative value of tree climbing examining when and why tree climbers climb and what tree climbing can do for and say about the climber's mental health and wellbeing Bringing together research into poetry novels and paintings with the science of wellbeing and mental health and engaging with myth folklore psychology and storytelling Tree Climber also examines the close relationship between tree climbing and imagination and questions some longstanding problematic gendered injunctions about women climbing trees Discussing among others the literary works of Margaret Atwood Charlotte Bronte Geoffrey Chaucer Angela Carter Kiran Desai and J R R Tolkien as well as work by artists such as Peter Doig Paula Rego and Goya this book stands out as an almost encyclopedic examination of cultural representations of this quirky and ultimately restorative pastime

Building Resilience to Trauma Elaine Miller-Karas, 2015-02-20 After a traumatic experience survivors often experience a cascade of physical emotional cognitive behavioral and spiritual responses that leave them feeling unbalanced and threatened Building Resilience to Trauma explains these common responses from a biological perspective reframing the human experience from one of shame and pathology to one of hope and biology It also presents alternative approaches the Trauma Resiliency Model TRM and the Community Resiliency Model CRM which offer concrete and practical skills that resonate with what we know about the biology of trauma In programs co sponsored by the World Health Organization the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee ADRA

International and the department of behavioral health of San Bernardino County the TRM and the CRM have been used to reduce and in some cases eliminate the symptoms of trauma by helping survivors regain a sense of balance Clinicians will find that they can use the models with almost anyone who has experienced or witnessed any event that was perceived as life threatening or posed a serious injury to themselves or to others The models can also be used to treat symptoms of vicarious traumatization and compassion fatigue
