

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of any Shipboard Security System are:

1. To establish a framework to detect security threats and take preventive measures against security incidents affecting the ship.
2. To establish roles and responsibilities for ensuring security.
3. To ensure the early and efficient collection and exchange of security-related information.
4. To provide a methodology for security assessments so as to have in place plans and procedures to react to changing security levels.
5. To ensure confidence that adequate and proportionate maritime security measures are in place.

FUNCTIONAL REQUIREMENTS

In order to achieve its objectives, a number of functional necessities are required. These include, but are not limited to:

1. Gathering and assessing information with respect to security threats – Report any lapse in Security to Master or Chief Officer.
2. Prevent unauthorized access to the ship and it's restricted areas.
3. Prevent introduction of unauthorized weapons, incendiary devices or explosives to the ship.
4. Raising the alarm in reaction to security threats or security incidents.
5. Required training, drills and exercises to ensure familiarity with security plans and procedures.

VARIOUS SECURITY LEVELS

Security level 1 means a normal operational level at which minimum appropriate protective security measures shall be maintained at all times.

Security level 2 means that heightened risk of a security incident is perceived. At this level appropriate additional protective security measures shall be maintained for a period of time.

Security level 3 means a security incident is probable or imminent, although it may not be possible to identify the specific target. At this level further specific protective security measures shall be maintained for a limited period of time.

RESTRICTED AREAS

Following Areas are required to be declared restricted and unauthorized persons should not be allowed entry. Access to these areas is to be controlled. Stop any outsider from entering these areas.
