Goldwyn, 2021-08-06 This book analyzes Byzantine examples of witness literature a genre that focuses on eyewitness accounts written by slaves prisoners refugees and other victims of historical atrocity It focuses on such episodes in three nonfictional texts John Kaminian's Capture of Thessaloniki 904 Eustathios of Thessaloniki's Capture of Thessaloniki 1186 and Niketas Choniates History ca 1204 17 and the three extant twelfth century Komnenian novels to consider how the authors positions as both eyewitness and victim require an interpretive method that distinguishes witness literature from other kinds of writing about the past Drawing on theoretical developments in the fields of Holocaust and Genocide Studies such as Giorgio Agamben's homo sacer and Michel Foucault's biopolitics and comparisons with modern examples Elie Wiesel's Night and Primo Levi's If This is a Man Witness Literature emphasizes the affective subjective and experiential in medieval Greek historical writing

The Era of the Witness Annette Wieviorka, 2006 What is the role of the survivor testimony in Holocaust remembrance In this book a concise rigorously argued and provocative work of cultural and intellectual history the author seeks to answer this surpassingly complex question Poesis in Extremis Daniel Feldman, Efraim Sicher, 2024-02-08 How can genocide be witnessed through imaginative literature How can the Holocaust affect readers who were not there Reading the work of major figures such as Elie Wiesel Paul Celan Avrom Sutzkever Ida Fink Wladyslaw Szlengel Itzhak Katzenelson and Czeslaw Milosz Poesis in Extremis poses fundamental questions about how prose and poetry are written under extreme conditions either in real time or immediately after the Holocaust Framed by discussion of literary testimony with Wiesel's literary memoir Night as an entry point this innovative study explores the blurred boundary of fact and fiction in Holocaust literature It asks whether there is a poetics of the Holocaust and what might be the criteria for literary witnessing Wartime writing in particular tests the limits of poesis in extremis when poets faced their own annihilation and wrote in the hope that their words like a message in a bottle would somehow reach readers Through Poesis in Extremis Daniel Feldman and Efraim Sicher probe the boundaries of Holocaust literature as well as the limits of representation Legacy of Night, the Literary Universe of Elie Wiesel Ellen S. Fine, 1982 Traces of War Colin Davis, 2018 Traces of War examines how the trauma of the Second World War influenced the work of the brilliant generation of writers and intellectuals who lived through it The Cambridge History of French Literature William Burgwinkle, Nicholas Hammond, Emma Wilson, 2011-02-24 From Occitan poetry to Francophone writing produced in the Caribbean and North Africa from intellectual history to current films and from medieval manuscripts to bandes dessinées this History covers French literature from its beginnings to the present day With equal attention to all genres historical periods and registers this is the most comprehensive guide to literature written in French ever produced in English and the first in decades to offer such an array of topics and perspectives Contributors attend to issues of orality history peripheries visual culture alterity sexuality religion politics autobiography and testimony The result is a collection that despite the wide variety of topics and perspectives presents a unified view of the richness of French speaking cultures This History gives support to the idea that French writing will continue to prosper in the twenty first century as it adapts adds to and refocuses the rich legacy of its past

European Memories of the Second World War Helmut Peitsch, Charles Burdett, Claire Gorrara, 2006-03-01 During the fifty years since the end of hostilities European literary memories of the war have undergone considerable change influenced by the personal experiences of writers as well as changing political social and cultural factors This volume examines changing ways of remembering the war in the literatures of France Germany and Italy changes in the subject of memory and in the relations between fiction autobiography and documentary with the focus being on the extent to which shared European memories of the war have been constructed

Encrypting the Past Kirstin Gwyer, 2014-09-11 Encrypting the Past puts forward the interpretative category of the first generation German Jewish Holocaust novel and examines its representational strategies With reference to works by H G Adler Jenny Aloni Elisabeth Augustin Erich Fried and Wolfgang Hildesheimer and a concluding section on W G Sebald it shows how Holocaust literature was being written decades before postwar authors such as Sebald were credited with having found new ways of reflecting the unspeakable It demonstrates that before the theoretical debate over the fundamental representability of the Holocaust was even fully under way first generation authors were already translating an un-narratable trauma into a literary strategy of un-narrating a strategy of encrypting the Holocaust into the form and structure of their texts The implications of treating these writers as a set and their body of work as a hitherto unacknowledged category of Holocaust fiction go well beyond drawing attention to a number of important but critically neglected authors This study frames the analysis of first generation narrative strategies in the broader debate on the ethics and aesthetics of Holocaust writing In revealing how certain kinds of testimony have been privileged above others in international Holocaust studies it raises questions of a more general nature concerning canon formation and our theoretical responses to the Holocaust In considering foremost among these responses the theory of deconstruction and trauma theory it finally invites a re-examination of the relationship between the post modern and trauma

The Story in Fiction and Film of French Collaboration in the Occupation and Complicity in the Holocaust (1940-1944) Daniel R. Schwarz, 2025-07-09 This book examines fiction and film narratives that show the active collaboration of the Vichy government with the Nazis in the deportation and murder of the Jews of France It also explains how these fiction and film narratives affected the official and dominant historical narrative of the 1940-44 Occupation years More than anything what changed the dominant narrative of the Occupation years are documentaries and creative works which imaginatively selected and arranged the presentation of neglected and suppressed facts By stressing how documentaries novels and imaginative films changed the dominant narrative of 1940 1944 the author is also arguing how cultural production transformed history

Witness Between Languages Peter Davies, Peter J. Davies, 2018 A growing body of scholarship is making visible the contribution of translators to the creation preservation and transmission of knowledge about the Holocaust The discussion has tended to be theoretical or to concentrate on exposing the distorted translations of texts by important witnesses such as Anne Frank or Elie Wiesel There is therefore a need for a positive concrete and contextually aware approach to the translation of Holocaust testimonies that acknowledges the achievements of translators while being sensitive to the consequences of particular translation strategies Peter Davies's study proceeds from the assumption that translators are active co creators whose work does not simply mediate a pre existing text but creates a representation of that text for a new readership in a specific context Translators of Holocaust testimonies then provide a form of textual commentary that works through ideas about witnessing historical truth and the meaning of the Holocaust In this way they are important co creators of knowledge about the Holocaust and its legacy The study focuses on translations between English and German and from other languages principally French Russian and Polish into English and German It works through a number of case studies showing how making translation and its effects visible contributes to a clearer understanding of how knowledge about the Holocaust has been and continues to be created and mediated Peter Davies is Professor of German at the University of Edinburgh

Postnational Memory, Peace and War Nigel Young, 2019-11-26 This book examines the phenomenon of modern memory as a reaction to total war an aspiration to truth seeking provoked by the independent forces of modern war and collective violence which is transnational or postnational in character Using examples from prose and poetry film and theatre painting and photography and music and the popular arts the author traces a narrative path through the events of the twentieth century defining the tradition of modern memory in terms of its essentially anti militaristic anti war character as expressed in the manner in which it represents recalled violence and atrocity Through a series of thematic discussions of two world wars the Shoah urbicide and nuclear weapons Postnational Memory explores the formation of transnational memory drawing on examples from industrialized societies with a focus on memory of real events and their reproduction in literature and the arts often including personal recollections that link the self to the represented past As such by asking how the concept of modern memory is constructed through the victims of war and genocide the book constitutes an alternative to national memories and hegemonic militarist or ethnocentric histories Surveying the emergence of new transnational forms of remembering the past it will appeal to students and scholars of sociology memory studies and peace studies as well as those working in disciplines such as modern and international history cultural studies and military studies

Hannah Arendt and the Limits of Total Domination Michal Aharony, 2015-03-05 Responding to the increasingly influential role of Hannah Arendt's political philosophy in recent years Hannah Arendt and the Limits of Total Domination The Holocaust Plurality and Resistance critically engages with Arendt's understanding of totalitarianism According to Arendt the main goal of totalitarianism was total domination namely the virtual eradication of human legality morality individuality and plurality This attempt in her view was most fully realized in the concentration camps which served as the major laboratories for the regime While Arendt focused on the perpetrators logic and drive Michal Aharony examines the perspectives and experiences of the victims and their ability to resist such an experiment The first book length study to juxtapose Arendt's concept of total domination with actual testimonies of Holocaust survivors this book calls for methodological pluralism and the integration of the voices and narratives of the actors in the construction of political concepts and theoretical systems To achieve this Aharony engages with both well known and non canonical intellectuals and writers who survived Auschwitz and Buchenwald concentration camps Additionally she analyzes the oral testimonies of survivors who are largely unknown drawing from interviews conducted in Israel and in the U S as well as from videotaped interviews from archives around the world Revealing various manifestations of unarmed resistance in the camps this study demonstrates the persistence of morality and free agency even under the most extreme and de humanizing conditions while cautiously suggesting that absolute domination is never as absolute as it claims or wishes to be Scholars of political philosophy political science history and Holocaust studies will find this an original and compelling book

War, Revolution and Remembrance in World Cinema Nancy J. Membrez, 2021-05-15 Two World Wars engulfed Europe Asia and the United States leaving indelible scars on the landscape and survivors The trauma of civil wars in Spain declared and Latin America tacit spanned decades yet contradictorily bind parties together even today Civil wars still haunt Africa where in more recent years ethnic cleansing has led to wholesale genocide Drawing on the emerging field of Memory Studies this book examines narrative and documentary films made far from Hollywood that address memory both traumatic and nostalgic surrounding these conflicts despite attempts by special interests to erase or manipulate history

Ethics and Suffering since the Holocaust Ingrid L Anderson, 2016-05-26 For many the Holocaust made thinking about ethics in traditional ways impossible It called into question the predominance of speculative ontology in Western thought and left many arguing that Western political cultural and philosophical inattention to universal ethics were both a cause and an effect of European civilization's collapse in the twentieth century Emmanuel Levinas Elie Wiesel and Richard Rubenstein respond to this problem by insisting that ethics must be Western thought's first concern Unlike previous thinkers they locate humanity's source of universal ethical obligation in the temporal world of experience where human suffering rather than metaphysics provides the ground for ethical engagement All three thinkers contend that Judaism's key lesson is that our fellow human is our responsibility and use Judaism to develop a contemporary ethics that could operate with or without God Ethics and Suffering since the Holocaust explores selected works of Levinas Wiesel and Rubenstein for practical applications of their ethics analyzing the role of suffering and examining the use each thinker makes of Jewish sources and the advantages and disadvantages of this use Finally it suggests how the work of Jewish thinkers living in the wake of the Holocaust can be of unique value to those interested in the problem of ethics in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Presenting a thorough investigation of the work of Levinas Wiesel and Rubenstein this book is of key interest to students and scholars of Jewish studies as well as Jewish ethics and philosophy
