Natura 2000 - A Coherent Nature Conservation Network? Bettina Kleining,2024-05-26 This book offers a fresh perspective on the Habitats Directive s rules on designating Natura 2000 the European biodiversity conservation network Although the Habitats Directive came into force in the early 1990s the network is not yet optimally set up and lacks coherence and connectivity The author examines the Habitats Directive s provisions regarding the designation of Natura

2000 and discusses possible reasons for the EU Member States ongoing lack of compliance with their designation duties She reassesses the 2015 REFIT Fitness Check of the Nature Directives to look for the Member States reasons for not having optimally complied with their designation duties yet She then analyses the Habitats Directive to reveal elements of non optimal drafting in its designation provisions Sensible law reforms that do not interfere with the general framework of the Habitats Directive and which keep in mind the relevant national regional and international biodiversity law and policy as well as the relevant case law will be discussed to this end As a result this book presents an enhanced legal designation framework that can support Member States compliance with their designation obligations The book finally goes beyond the European biodiversity legislation also shedding light on the effects of the suggested reforms for the broader biodiversity and environmental law and policy landscape and concludes that reforming the Habitats Directive would benefit a variety of contemporary areas of law This book targets academics and policy makers in the field as it provides a scholarly as well as a hands on approach to the subject of strengthening European biodiversity law Congressional Record United States.

Vulnerability Sean Coyle,2025-09-18 This book explores human vulnerability through the lens of natural law theory Beginning with a detailed examination of natural law ethics centred upon the virtues Part One it sets out the relationship between natural law and human vulnerability To be human is to be vulnerable but vulnerability must itself be understood by reference to the human goods that are the central concern of natural law ethics Such goods lie at the heart of what it means to lead a flourishing life but they are in no way certain goods such as health education the family can all be perverted or taken away by human agency or the vicissitudes of life Part Two poses the problem of how human beings and government can build resilience in the face of these vulnerabilities Its main contention is that the central aims of vulnerability theory including that of state responsiveness are pre figured in the social teachings of the Catholic Church These teachings provide a compelling basis for the demand that the state be more responsive to social scourges such as poverty crime debt and dependency Vulnerability theorists will benefit from a new perspective on the problems that are central to their analysis natural law theorists will profit by an enrichment and extension of their central concerns Legal Measures for the
