Common Standards for K-12 Education? National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Center for Education, Committee on State Standards in Education: A Workshop Series, 2008-08-26 Standards based accountability has become a central feature of the public education system in each state and is a theme of national discussions about how achievement for all students can be improved and achievement gaps narrowed Questions remain however about the implementation of standards and accountability systems and about whether their potential benefits have been fully realized Each of the 50 states has adopted its own set of standards and though there is overlap among them there is also wide variation in the ways states have devised and implemented their systems This variety may have both advantages and disadvantages but it nevertheless raises a fundamental question Is the establishment of common K 12 academic standards which states could voluntarily adopt the logical next step for standards based reform The goal of this book is not to answer the policy question of whether or not common standards would be a good idea Rather the book provides an objective look at the available evidence regarding the ways in which standards are currently functioning the strategies that might be used to pursue common standards and the issues that doing so might present Curriculum Alignment David A. Squires, 2009 One of the few books that takes a holistic look at alignment and helps clarify the definition of alignment Squires helped increase my knowledge as an instructional leader and showed me that alignment can be a valuable tool when used with real intent The book engaged me in authentic reflection on my professional practice Margarete Couture Principal South Seneca Central School District NY Use the power of alignment to strengthen curriculum and raise student achievement Aligning what is taught written and tested can be a powerful systemic way of improving school performance This guidebook written by a long time educator and proponent of curriculum alignment demonstrates how to apply specific principles and recommendations to improve curriculum instruction and test scores This resource offers school and district administrators and curriculum specialists concrete practical guidance for aligning curriculum and instruction with state standards and assessments to improve teaching and learning The author offers research based strategies that reinforce the importance of curriculum alignment and shows how districts can Use alignment as a major curriculum design element Translate research into usable strategies to achieve measurable results Expand options for raising test results and student outcomes Connect school policy with continuous school improvement Meet the requirements of No Child Left Behind Comprehensive thoughtful and realistic Curriculum Alignment offers a wide range of approaches to appeal to educators at every level Supporting and Accommodating Students with Special Health Care Needs Azure D. S. Angelov, Mary Jo Rattermann, 2023-12-06 Schools are increasingly responding to the impact and prevalence of special health care needs among children and youth COVID 19 brought the health needs of many students to the forefront Now more than ever it is crucial to for educators to plan for working with students with health needs Many of these students with health needs are eligible for special education and related services and will need programming appropriate to address their unique needs Further school teams and special education personnel must continually ensure that goals and services within an IEP consider the student s individual circumstances and impact on functioning This book will provide strategies for supporting students with health care needs throughout their education including referral family engagement report writing IEP design and implementation Fortunately school teams can apply many components of a health care needs approach to developing IEPs regardless of the concern or the existence of a medical history This book provides guidance to educators to assist in the development of legally defensible IEP s for all students particularly those with a known or suspected history of health care needs Specifically the book will help

Provide a clear description of the impact of adversity and health care needs on student functioning particularly for students with disabilities Describe how symptoms of health care needs map onto existing disability categories within IDEA Apply a supportive approach to family engagement assessment and report writing Take a different approach to PLAAFPs Establish goals that are legally defensible and are written in light of the child s circumstances viewing behavioral concerns as a skill deficit rather than purely a performance deficit Beyond the objectives described above the information is particularly valuable given ongoing state and local legislation mandating schools become more aware of students with health care needs and apply those approaches to all aspects of our work in schools e g interactions discipline interventions Despite the significant increase in recognizing the impact of students with health care needs few books have operationalized that to the various components of service delivery This book is the first of its kind in operationalizing a health care informed approach to IEP development

Boards that Matter Linda J. Dawson,Randy Quinn,2011-08-18 This book clears the smoke for boards faced with the challenge to make their governing model either Policy Governance or Coherent Governance work in real life Boards of directors thoughtfully engage in the exciting work of developing new policies and adopting their new governing model then immediately confront reality how does the board actually put the new model into motion and allow it to deliver on its promise of excellent board performance Boards That Matter is a practical guide that takes the mystery out of that process It is a book that is loaded with down to earth solutions all based on processes successfully in use today by boards across the United States and internationally Although many of the examples offered in the book come from the world of public school boards and non profit boards of various types the implementation processes are equally applicable to boards of all types The challenge of governing a complex organization is difficult enough in itself without layering on top of that challenge the struggle to make the board s own operating system seem natural and meaningful The authors draw from their combined 60 plus years of experience in working with public and non profit boards including work with hundreds of boards using both Policy Governance and Coherent Governance as they present their insight about how to use the models effectively Their easily understood implementation strategies for helping real boards deal with real issues and doing it through faithful utilization of their new governing tools makes this a continuing reference source for boards as they translate theory into practice

Curricular Program Implementation in the Context of Randomized Field Trials Gloria Isabel Miller, 2011 Abstract curricular program implementation in the context of randomized field trials Gloria Isabel Miller This study examined three cases of commercially available curricular program implementations to determine if a unified approach to measuring the level of implementation was possible proof of concept Further the study investigated whether the level of curriculum and implementation plan specificity made a difference to the strength of implementation achieved in classrooms and described the implementation evolution in different contexts The study sample consists of a total of 163 teachers in eight school districts across the United States In each case teachers were randomly assigned to using the curricular innovation or their currently used materials and processes The three cases HS Math NewScience and MathIntervention were purposely chosen to represent three different points of curricular and implementation specificity and two different subject areas math and science Each case features a commercially available program that also had opportunities for teachers to use electronic technology to enhance their learning or to engage their students The cases represent differing student grade levels The cases are different enough to provide a range that exercises the measurement techniques introduced in this study so results can begin to generalize across curricular programs and grades However the cases are similar enough in research design instrumentation and data collection methods to make them comparable A key contribution of this investigation is the creation of a framework to measure the level of implementation the extent to which the teacher and students display the actions behaviors and interactions expected by using the innovation The unified conceptual framework arrived at by using an Activity Theory perspective together with the analytical methods employed provide a way to view the rich complex interaction of implementation as a system with the larger system of the school organization Data from the analysis revealed that variations in the level of implementation were no different regardless of the level of specificity A strong finding of this work is that implementation evolves slowly even when the curricular program is scripted and coaching support is provided to teachers The paper concludes with implications for policy
