Application of LC-MS/MS in the Mycotoxins Studies Laura Gámiz-Gracia, Ana M. García-Campaña, Natalia Arroyo-Manzanares, 2020-06-17 Mycotoxins are secondary metabolites produced by the fungi of different species mainly

Aspergillus Fusarium and Penicillium with toxic effects for humans and animals These mycotoxins can contaminate food and feed The European Union EU has established the maximum permitted or recommended levels for well known mycotoxins in different foodstuffs However there are other mycotoxins that are not included in the regulations the emerging mycotoxins whose toxicity is still not clear and the modified or masked mycotoxins produced as a consequence of a detoxification strategy of the host plant of the fungus or during food processing These mycotoxins could pose a risk and should also be taken into account In order to assure consumers health analytical methods for the accurate determination of mycotoxins in different food matrices and feeds are required In this sense liquid chromatography tandem mass spectrometry LC MS MS is a powerful tool for their unique identification and quantification Moreover the use of high resolution mass spectrometry HRMS allows one to identify novel mycotoxins and targeted untargeted approaches for study This Special Issue compiles recent applications of LC MS MS in mycotoxin studies as well as the development and validation of new analytical methods for their identification and quantification in different food matrices and feed occurrence studies and the biomonitoring of mycotoxins and their metabolites in biological fluids

Self-Directed Learning in the era of the COVID-19 pandemic Josef de Beer,Neal Petersen,Elsa Mentz,Robert J. Balfour,2023-03-01 The book is devoted to scholarship in the field of pre service teacher education with a specific focus on research into the enhancement of self directed learning and contributes to the discourse on creating a disposition towards self directed learning during the social and academic integration of first year students within higher education institutions Two chapters also deal with research on the development of self directed learning and nuanced understandings of the chosen professions of Law and Health Sciences students The target audience is scholars working in the fields of teacher education self directed learning engaging pedagogies problem based learning cooperative learning and gamification Whereas social constructivist learning theory served as an overarching theoretical framework for the virtual excursions the various chapters in the book also draw on other secondary theories such as self determination theory social interdependence theory gender theory and the with fitness model of Kounin 1970 Wetlands and Water Resources: Ecological Solutions for the Environment Guangzhi Sun,Xiaoifei Yu,Yuanchun Zou,Guobin Fu,2023-04-12 Wetlands are usually located in complex landscapes Multiple ecosystem services delivered by wetlands to human well being should be considered in broader contexts of wetland functions water quality water resource management and wetland conservation Natural wetlands are kidneys and sponges of the earth that remove water pollutants and provide hydrological regulation functions vital to the environment Where the functions of the wetlands are weakened actions of rehabilitations are needed to revitalize those functions While worldwide many natural wetlands have disappeared due to climate change and or human activities constructed wetlands which may be seen as artificial kidneys sponges of the earth have been increasingly built to replicate the functions of the natural wetlands This Research Topic aims to collect and present the latest research developments in natural and constructed wetlands in relation to either water resource functions or water quality Articles published in this Research Topic will showcase new understandings of water balances and flow patterns vegetation characteristics and pollutant transformations in wetland systems innovative designs and efficiencies of wastewater treatment wetlands and technologies that revitalize the ecosystem functions of natural wetlands These articles are expected to bring benefits to research communities water and wastewater industries and government agencies that deal with wetland water management and conservation High quality Original Research and Review articles in this field are all welcome for submission to this Research Topic Research interests include but are not limited to the following areas 1 Water balances and flow patterns in natural wetland systems 2 The hydrological regulation functions and importance of natural wetlands in their environmental context 3 Vegetation characteristics of natural wetlands and their functional importance in wetland water pollution control 4 Techniques for the rehabilitation of degraded wetlands 5 The role of constructed wetlands in wastewater treatment 6 Innovative designs and efficiencies of wastewater treatment wetlands 7 The modeling of hydrological and or pollutant dynamics in wetland systems 8 The ecohydrology of wetlands 9 The role of wetlands in the global carbon cycle 10 Impacts of climate change and human activities on wetland hydrology and water resources Recognizing that hydrological and biogeochemical processes are basically coupled in wetlands and their landscapes manuscripts that report their interactions are particularly welcome Creating a Teacher Collective Maria Impedovo,Karen Ferreira-Meyers,Noriyuki Inoue,2023-06-05 The present book addresses the following challenge How do we create and sustain a teacher community For practitioners the main question in this handbook is How do we build and facilitate teacher communities The different chapters discuss teacher interaction for learning and professional development in light of three constructs the group the community and the network There is a wealth of literature especially on theoretical frameworks success factors and barriers to participation in teacher communities However this book addresses the need for a step by step guide with valuable suggestions for those who want to create from scratch and support a community of teachers brought together to deal with specific issues and importantly mediated by educational technology A typology of questions in Northeast Asia and beyond Andreas Hölzl, 2018-08-29 This study investigates the distribution of linguistic and specifically structural diversity in Northeast Asia NEA defined as the region north of the Yellow River and east of the Yenisei In particular it analyzes what is called the grammar of questions GQ i e those aspects of any given language that are specialized for asking questions or regularly combine with these The bulk of the study is a bottom up description and comparison of GQs in the languages of NEA The addition of the phrase and beyond to the title of this study serves two purposes First languages such as Turkish and Chuvash are included despite the fact that they are spoken outside of NEA since they have ties to or even originated in the region Second despite its focus on one area the typology is intended to be applicable to other languages as well Therefore it makes extensive use of data from languages outside of NEA The restriction to one category is necessary for reasons of space and clarity and the process of zooming in on one region allows a higher resolution and historical accuracy than is usually the case in linguistic typology The discussion mentions over 450 languages and dialects from NEA and beyond and gives about 900 glossed examples The aim is to achieve both a cross linguistically plausible typology and a maximal resolution of the linguistic diversity of Northeast Asia Rediscovering the Essentiality of Marketing Luca Petruzzellis, Russell S. Winer, 2016-06-27 This book contains the full proceedings of the 2015 Academy of Marketing Science World Marketing Congress held in Bari Italy The current worldwide business environment is leading marketing scholars and practitioners to reconsider a number of historical and current views of the marketplace and how it functions Further determining new marketing theories and practical methods whose effectiveness can be truly measured must be added to the list of current challenges for today and tomorrow In such a period in marketing history achieving and managing efficient and effective marketing actions is a necessity Determining such actions is based on practical experience solid theory and appropriate research methodology The enclosed papers focus on new research ideas on vibrant topics that can help academics and practitioners gain new perspectives and insights into today s turbulent marketplace Founded in 1971 the Academy of Marketing Science is an international organization dedicated to promoting timely explorations of phenomena related to the science of marketing in theory research and practice Among its services to members and the community at large the Academy offers conferences congresses and symposia that attract delegates from around the world Presentations from these events are published in this Proceedings series which offers a comprehensive archive of volumes reflecting the evolution of the field Volumes deliver cutting edge research and insights complimenting the Academy s flagship journals Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science JAMS and AMS Review Volumes are edited by leading scholars and practitioners across a wide range of subject areas in marketing science Ibadan Market Women and Politics, 1900-1995

Mutiati Titilope Oladejo, 2015-12-16 Ibadan market women were active in political mobilization and they engaged in eclectic political actions during the decolonization process. Their leaders significantly swayed the electorate both in and beyond the market places. This study examines the historical development of the roles of Ibadan market women in politics between 1900 and 1995 with a view to establishing their contributions. By a thorough historical analysis of Ibadan Divisional and Provincial papers and newspapers of the nationalists era 1945-1960, Nigerian Tribune and Southern Nigerian Defender from the National Archives, Ibadan were consulted for information on the activities of Ibadan market women. Secondary data were obtained from the Women Research and Documentation Centre and other resource centres. Simultaneously, Ibadan market women were involved in party politics of the National Council for Nigeria and the Cameroons (NCNC), Action Group (AG) and traditional power politics.

Dominant Language Constellations Joseph Lo Bianco, Larissa Aronin, 2020-09-07 This volume is dedicated to the concept and several applications of Dominant Language Constellations (DLC) by which it advances understanding of current multilingualism through addition of a novel perspective from which to view contemporary language use and acquisition. The term Dominant Language Constellation denotes the set of a person's or group's most expedient languages functioning as an entire unit and enabling an individual or group to meet their needs in a multilingual environment. The volume presents pioneering contributions that employ DLC as the lens for analysing a wide array of issues. These include multilingual syntactic development, cross-linguistic interaction and multilingual production in formal and informal educational contexts as well as linguistic profiles of multilingual groups used in elementary school and higher education. Other DLC issues include discussions of how identity, emotions and attitudes operate in various minority and majority contexts. Because the DLC concept does not assume any inherent hierarchy of languages, it can serve as a framework for public policy in multilingual countries, communities faced with challenging policy determinations regarding choice of languages for use in education settings and more widely in social institutions and the economy. Some chapters develop and extend the DLC concept; others adapt and apply it to a variety of contexts, both global and local. Many chapters feature educational and social settings across large parts of the world: Africa, Australia, Europe, North America, Canada and the USA, and Southeast Asia. The volume can serve as supplementary reading for courses on multilingualism, sociolinguistics, language policy and planning, educational linguistics, Second and Third Language Acquisition.

A Luta Continua Lizette Rabe, 2020-10-16 What has media freedom entailed over the couple of centuries and successive governments of the geopolitical region that became South Africa since it was colonised by Westerners? And why can media freedom be described as both pillar and cornerstone of a democracy? It's simple as in the words of Nelson Mandela, first state president of a democratic South Africa: Press freedom is the lifeblood of democracy. This book tells the tale of the various states of press freedom or unfreedom from colonial times to today, from a British governor called a dictator and a despot through apartheid's pigmentocracy or sjambocracy where the rule of law has been replaced by the rule of the whip up to the dawn of liberation with media freedom entrenched in Article

16 of South Africa's Bill of Rights And why should all of this concern you Because media freedom is not about the freedom of the media It is about your freedom As was formulated by an editor under apartheid If we don't have a public sympathetic to a free press not only will we not have a free press we won't have a democracy either Or in the words of former Sowetan editor and SANEF chair Mpumelelo Mkhabela Media freedom has nothing to do with the media but with the freedom of citizens And that is why you should know that a free media is the only guarantee for your freedom As we have seen both under apartheid and also under a democratic dispensation it is a matter of a luta continua The struggle continues But you the public are the guardian of those that guard democracy Help ensure the rights of a free media and thereby your democratic rights and a democratic South Africa

The Linguistics of Temperature Maria Koptjevskaja-Tamm, 2015-02-11 The volume is the first comprehensive typological study of the conceptualisation of temperature in languages as reflected in their systems of central temperature terms hot cold to freeze etc The key issues addressed here include questions such as how languages categorize the temperature domain and what other uses the temperature expressions may have e.g. when metaphorically referring to emotions warm words The volume contains studies of more than 50 genetically areally and typologically diverse languages and is unique in considering cross linguistic patterns defined both by lexical and grammatical information The detailed descriptions of the linguistic and extra linguistic facts will serve as an important step in teasing apart the role of the different factors in how we speak about temperature neurophysiology cognition environment social cultural practices genetic relations among languages and linguistic contact The book is a significant contribution to semantic typology and will be of interest for linguists psychologists anthropologists and philosophers

Scaffolding work-integrated learning excursions Adri Du Toit, Neal Petersen, Iman C. Chahine, 2025-02-28 In South Africa work integrated learning WIL excursions are crucial in preparing university students for the world of work As higher education institutions HEIs evolve to promote equity and inclusivity these excursions are continuously refined to enhance student learning outcomes This scholarly book explores how WIL excursions support self directed learning SDL and foster skills essential for the 21st century such as active learning intercultural sensitivity and epistemological access A key focus is on the 2023 WIL excursions at North West University NWU which align with South Africa's National Development Plan 2030 and the University Capacity Development Grant's UCDG goal of equipping graduates to address contemporary societal challenges. The book examines first year excursions across three faculties: Education, Health Sciences, and Law, using both virtual and in-person experiences to develop intercultural citizenship, communication, and a sense of belonging. Through research-based insights, the chapters highlight how these excursions were designed and implemented to help students recognise personal biases, deepen cultural awareness, and take responsibility for their own learning. Additionally, the book underscores how students were encouraged to identify their learning needs and access resources that promote ongoing self-directed growth. By linking WIL to SDL, the book provides novel perspectives on fostering inclusivity and preparing students for their academic journeys, professional careers, and contributions to a more socially just world.
