

Chapter 1: Professional Nursing Practice

1. A nurse has been offered a position on an obstetric unit and has learned that the unit offers therapeutic abortions, a procedure that contradicts the nurse's personal beliefs. What is the nurse's ethical obligation to these clients?

- A. The nurse should adhere to professional standards of practice and offer service to these clients.
- B. The nurse should make the choice to decline this position and pursue a different nursing role.
- C. The nurse should decline to care for the clients considering abortion.
- D. The nurse should express alternatives to women considering terminating their pregnancy.

ANS: B

Rationale: To avoid facing the ethical dilemma of providing care that contradicts the nurse's personal beliefs, the nurse should consider working in an area of nursing that would not pose this dilemma. The nurse should not provide care to the client because it is a conflict of personal values. The nurse should not deny care to these clients as this would be a breach in the Code of Ethics for nurses. If the client is not requesting information for alternatives to abortions, then the nurse should not be providing this information.

PTS: 1 REF: p. 27

NAT: Client Needs: Safe, Effective Care Environment: Management of Care

TOP: Chapter 1: Professional Nursing Practice KEY: Integrated Process: Caring

BLM: Cognitive Level: Apply NOT: Multiple Choice

2. An 80-year-old client is admitted with a diagnosis of community-acquired pneumonia. During admission the client states, "I have a living will." What implication of this should the nurse recognize?

- A. This document is always honored, regardless of circumstances.
- B. This document specifies the client's wishes before hospitalization.
- C. This document is binding for the duration of the client's life.
