invaluable new study The Art of Fieldwork Harry F. Wolcott, 2005 In this long anticipated second edition of The Art of Fieldwork prominent anthropologist Harry F Wolcott updates his original groundbreaking text which both challenges and petitions anthropology and its practitioners to draw not only on the traditional precepts of science but also on the richness of artistry in the collection interpretation and expression of fieldwork data Each of the original chapters have been thoughtfully revised to reflect the past nine years of anthropological development Combined with a new final chapter this refreshing text makes an exciting reentry into the ongoing debate of the processes challenges and rewards of fieldwork methodology Researchers in qualitative methods and field methods_and fieldworkers across disciplines_will find this well crafted approachable book a thought provoking read Interreligious Dialogue and Cultural Change Catherine Cornille, Stephanie Corigliano, 2012-08-17 The challenges and changes that take place when religions move from one cultural context to another present unique opportunities for interreligious dialogue In new cultural environments religions are not only propelled to enter into dialogue with the traditional or dominant religion of a particular culture religions are also invited to enter into dialogue with one another about cultural changes In this volume scholars from different religious traditions discuss the various types of dialogue that have emerged from the process of acculturation While the phenomenon of religious acculturation has generally focused on Western religions in non Western contexts this volume deals predominantly with the acculturation in the United States It thus offers a fresh look at the phenomenon of acculturation while also lifting up an often implicit or ignored dimension of interreligious dialogue Anthropologists in a Wider World Paul Dresch, Wendy James, David J. Parkin, 2000 The tradition of intensive fieldwork by a single anthropologist in one area has been challenged by new emphasis on studying historical patterns wider regions and global networks Some anthropologists have started their careers from the new vantage point amidst a chorus of claims for innovative methodologies Others have lived through these changes of perspective and are able to reflect on them while re evaluating the place of fieldwork within the broader aims of general anthropology This book explores these transformations of world view and approach as they have been experienced by anthropological colleagues a number of whom began their work very much in the earlier tradition They cover experiences of field research in Africa Papua New Guinea South America Central and South Asia Europe the Middle East Indonesia Japan and China Constant through the chapters is a distinctively qualitative empirical approach once associated with the village but now being developed in relation to large scale or dispersed communities The Shadow Side of Fieldwork Athena McLean, Annette Leiby, 2008-04-15 The Shadow Side of Fieldwork draws attention to the typically hidden or unacknowledged aspects of ethnographic fieldwork encounters that nevertheless shape the resulting knowledge and texts Addressing these invisible elusive unspoken or mysterious elements introduces a distinctive rigor and responsibility to ethnographic research Luminaries in anthropology dare to explore the unspeakable and invisible in the ethnographic encounter Considers personal and professional challenges ethical epistemological and political faced by researchers who examine the subjectivities inherent in their ethnographic insights Explores the value and limitations of addressing the personal in ethnographic research Includes a critical discussion of the anthropologist s self in the field Introduces imaginative rigor to ethnographic research to heighten confidence in anthropological knowledge Clifford Geertz in Morocco Susan Slyomovics,2013-09-13 Between 1963 and 1986 eminent American anthropologists Clifford and Hildred Geertz together and alone conducted ethnographic fieldwork for varying periods in Sefrou a town situated in north central Morocco south of Fez This book considers Geertz s contributions to sociocultural theory and symbolic anthropology Clifford Geertz made an immense impact on the American academy his interpretative and symbolic approaches reoriented anthropology analytically away from classic social science presuppositions while his publications profoundly influenced both North American and Maghribi researchers alike After his death at the age of 80 on October 30 2006 scholars from local national and international universities gathered at the University of California Los Angeles to analyze his contributions to sociocultural theory and symbolic anthropology in relation to Islam ideas of the sacred Morocco s cityscapes notably Sefrou s bazaar or suq colonialism and post independence economic development gender and political structures at the household and village levels This book looks back to a specific era of American anthropology beginning in the 1960s as it unfolded in Morocco and at the same time the contributions examine new lines of enquiry that opened up after key texts by Geertz were translated into French and introduced to generations of francophone Maghribi researchers who sustain lively and inventive meditations on his Morocco writings This book was published as a special issue of Journal of North African Studies

Irving's Dialogism in the Alhambra Mohamed Dellal,2024-12-06 Cross culture and or multiculturalism have become catchwords and phrases in certain studies within academia but they have mostly become battle grounds for contestation and convergence with contestation of identity cultural authenticity and or supremacy and hegemony Yet over and above all these skirmishes convergence tends to win the day as it struggles for a cosmopolitan culture and polity albeit very difficult to achieve The present work follows the same line of thought by trying to bring a new perspective into what it calls cultural dialogism inherent in the corpus of texts borrowed from The Alhambra by W Irving The texts selected display a dual characteristic the first is addressed as organic in the sense that the texts reflect some eight hundred years of natural copulation between Muslim culture brought up by Muslim conquerors to the Andalusian Christendom the second underlines a volition on the part of the author to merge the culture by intruding into the structures of the language and the texts The present works intends to show that these characteristic hybridities transgress the generic boundaries as well as the cultural one producing a brassage breaking the fixity of the boundaries cultural and other causing brisures and sutures This endows the texts with a certain liminality that makes it difficult to authenticate them as belonging to either culture

Psychotherapy, Anthropology and the Work of Culture Keir Martin, 2019-03-13 Anthropology and psychotherapy have a long and important historical relationship and in this fascinating collection practitioners with experience in both fields explore how the concept of culture is deployed to guide and frame contemporary therapeutic theory training and practice This task is particularly important as the global spread of psychotherapy as both an outgrowth of and a potential point of critique to globalised hyper capitalism requires us to think differently about how to conceptualise cultural difference in psychotherapy Psychotherapy Anthropology and the Work of Culture provides a valuable resource for psychotherapeutic professionals working in a world in which cultural difference appears in fluid and transient moments It will also provide essential reading for students and researchers working across the fields of psychotherapy and anthropology

Comparing Conviviality Tilmann Heil, 2020-03-02 In a world where difference is often seen as a threat or challenge Comparing Conviviality explores how people actually live in diverse societies Based on a long term ethnography of West Africans in both Senegal and Spain this book proposes that conviviality is a commitment to difference across ethnicities languages religions and practices Heil brings together longstanding histories political projects and everyday practices of living with difference With a focus on neighbourhood life in Casamance Senegal and Catalonia Spain two equally complex regions Comparing Conviviality depicts how Senegalese people skillfully negotiate and translate the intricacies of difference and power In these lived African and European worlds conviviality is ever temporary and changing This book offers a textured realist yet hopeful understanding of difference social change power and respect It will be invaluable to students and scholars of African migration and diversity studies across anthropology sociology geography political sciences and law
