

Laboratory Activity #1 — Student Laboratory Packet

Relationships and Biodiversity*A Laboratory Activity for the Living EnvironmentIntroduction

Botana curus is a valuable plant because it produces Curol, a compound used for treating certain kinds of cancer. Curol cannot be produced in the laboratory. Botana curus grows very slowly and is on the endangered species list, so its ability to provide Curol in large quantities is limited.

Species that are more closely related to Botana curus are more likely to produce the important substance Curol. Three similar plant species that are plentiful (X, Y, and Z) may be related to Botana curus. You will work as a researcher to:

- gather structural and molecular evidence to determine which plant species is most closely related to the hypothetical species, Botana curus
- use this evidence to decide which plant species is most likely to serve as a source of the important substance Curol

Safety

- You will need to wear goggles while conducting Tests 4 and 5.
- Do not eat or drink anything in the laboratory while doing this laboratory activity.

Important Note: Record all of your data and answers on these laboratory sheets. You will need to keep them for review before the Regents Examination. Later, you will need to transfer your answers to a separate Student Answer Packet. Your teacher will use the packet in grading your work, and the school will retain it as evidence of your completion of the laboratory requirement for the Living Environment Regents Examination.

Structural Evidence for Relationships

Perform the following tests and record your observations in Table 1 on page 8 of this packet. Use a hand lens or microscope as needed.

Test 1-Structural Characteristics of Plants

- Do not remove the plant samples from the plastic bags/cards.
- Compare the structural characteristics of the plant samples. Record your observations in Table 1 (see page 8).

Test 2-Structural Characteristics of Seeds

- Do not remove the seed samples from the plastic bags/cards.
- Compare the structural characteristics of the seed samples. Record your observations in Table 1.

"Relationships and Biodiversity" is a laboratory activity produced by the State Education Department for use in fulfilling part of the laboratory requirement for the Regents Examination in Living Environment. Reproducing any part of this laboratory activity by other than New York State school personnel is illegal. From Able to Remarkable Robert Massey, 2019-10-04 In From Able to Remarkable Help your students become expert learners Robert Massey provides a pathway to help teachers guide their students through the gauntlets of the gifted the underpasses of underachievement and the roadblocks to remarkable on their learning journeys What makes remarkable students remarkable Attributes such as resilience curiosity and intelligence may come to mind and we might also add others such as intuition and tenacity But what has helped make them what they are Were they born this way or did their remarkabilities emerge during their schooling Such questions may make teachers feel uneasy prompting them to reflect on the sometimes limiting scope of what is often labelled as gifted and talented provision in their school Robert Massey argues however that these remarkabilities are there latent and dormant in many more students than we might at first acknowledge In From Able to Remarkable Robert shares a rich variety of practical cross curricular strategies designed to help teachers unearth and nurture these capabilities and signpost a route to the top for every learner Informed by educational research and evidence from the field of cognitive science the book talks teachers through a wide range of effective teaching and learning techniques all of which are appropriate for use with all pupils and not only with top sets or high attainers Robert also shares ideas on how teachers can improve their students abilities to receive respond to and then deliver feedback on both their own work and that of others To complement the feedback process he presents practical methods to help teachers make questioning self review and greater student ownership of their questioning within lessons a staple of day to day classroom interaction Venturing beyond the classroom the book also explores approaches to whole school provision for high attaining students and offers some robust stretch and challenge to educational leaders in considering what widespread excellence in education might look like Suitable for teachers and gifted and talented coordinators in both primary and secondary schools BSCS Biology ,1997
