Thesis Statement

Personal responsibility results to increase in the rate of success and decrease in examination cheating among the students in schools.

Introduction

The word personal responsibility is the self-awareness of a person towards success of one's life. It is also being aware of the initial goal of one's life hence doing everything towards one's own progress, to attain ones initial plan. Different people can define personal responsibility differently but one of the major definitions is that it is an attempt to use your own effort to be successful in everything.

The responsible person is the one who can make decisions and face the consequences of those decisions without complaining. One is responsible in life if he or she can be able to progress in life by abstaining anything, which might not be useful. Making such decisions need a strong person whose focus is purely in God and his ability to work in life without affecting anyone around negatively (Reiss, 2010).

The main aim of personal responsibility is to be able to show forth and even express the inner most beauty in visible ways, by responding to the issues of life and express your genuine love towards yourself and other people. The main aim of one's personal responsibility is to ensure that the environment can also benefit from the gift of your appearance in that particular place or the society.

Making ones personal responsibility relies mainly on the people who want to ensure total success in everything they are doing. It also takes one's self to be able to motivate own self to pursue a goal that seems difficult for people or even which people might neglect due to the vices that they are doing.

The Second-Person Standpoint Stephen Darwall, 2009-09-30 Why should we avoid doing moral wrong The inability of philosophy to answer this question in a compelling manner along with the moral skepticism and ethical confusion that ensue result Stephen Darwall argues from our failure to appreciate the essentially interpersonal character of moral obligation After showing how attempts to vindicate morality have tended to change the subject falling back on nonmoral values or practical first person considerations Darwall elaborates the interpersonal nature of moral obligations their inherent link to our responsibilities to one another as members of the moral community As Darwall defines it the concept of moral obligation has an irreducibly second person aspect it presupposes our authority to make claims and demands on one another And so too do many other central notions including those of rights the dignity of and respect for persons and the very concept of person itself The result is nothing less than a fundamental reorientation of moral theory that enables it at last to account for morality's supreme authority an account that Darwall carries from the realm of theory to the practical world of second person attitudes emotions and actions
