Wilcox,2016-06-28 Abraham Joshua Heschel said that We are closer to God when we are asking questions than when we have the answers He believed that to be a Christian is not to be a person who knows all the answers but one who lives in the part of the self where the question is constantly being born Most of us don t think very much about our questions In our culture we are accustomed to being able to find out answers to nearly any question just by typing it into Google search or asking Siri But behind any answer there is always a question Sometimes the question isn t clear to us sometimes it is not very well articulated even to ourselves But it is always there In over thirty years as a psychotherapist and spiritual director Peter C Wilcox has seen how the questions people ask themselves have shaped their lives in some very important ways This book is an invitation to see how important it is to learn how to ask the right questions about our lives This is because our choice of questions leads us on a path of discovery towards answers that help us to grow spiritually and psychologically Our questions orient our lives and give direction to us We will see that they enable us to make fifteen choices that have a tremendous impact on the kind of person we become Cases on Active Blended Learning in Higher Education Padilla Rodriguez, Brenda Cecilia,Armellini, Alejandro,2021-02-12 Active blended learning ABL is a pedagogical approach that combines sensemaking activities with focused interactions in appropriate learning settings ABL has become a great learning tool as it is easily accessible online with digitally rich environments close peer and tutor interactions and accommodations per individual learner needs It encompasses a variety of concepts methods and techniques such as collaborative learning experiential learning problem based learning team based learning and flipped classrooms ABL is a tool used by educators to develop learner autonomy engaging students in knowledge construction reflection and critique In the current educational climate there is a strong case for the implementation of ABL Cases on Active Blended Learning in Higher Education explores strategies and methods to implement ABL in higher education It will provide insights into teaching practice by describing the experiences and reflections of academics from around the world The chapters analyze enablers barriers to engagement outcomes implications and recommendations to benefit from ABL in different contexts as well as associated concepts and models While highlighting topics such as personalized university courses remote service learning team based learning and universal design this book is ideal for in service and preservice teachers administrators instructional designers teacher educators practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in pedagogical approaches aligned to ABL and how this works in higher education institutions Reading and the Reference Librarian Juris Dilevko, Lisa

Gottlieb, 2014-10-16 Reference librarians are no longer expected to know much about the information they find they are merely expected to find it Technological competency rather than knowledge has become the order of the day In many respects reference service has become a matter of typing search terms into a library's online catalog or a web search engine and providing the patron with the results of the search Calling for a re intellectualization of reference librarianship this book suggests another approach to providing quality reference service reading The authors surveyed both academic reference librarians and public library reference personnel in the United States and Canada about their reading habits From the 950 responses the authors present findings about the extent to which librarians read newspapers periodicals fiction and nonfiction and recount and analyze stories about how reading has made them better librarians The authors also report that North American professors in the humanities and social sciences believe that the best reference librarians are those who have wide ranging subject based knowledge as opposed to the type of process based functional knowledge that is
