Landscape and Gender in the Novels of Charlotte Brontë, George Eliot, and Thomas Hardy Dr Eithne Henson, 2013-05-28 Examining a wide range of representations of physical metaphorical and dream landscapes in Charlotte Bront George Eliot and Thomas Hardy Eithne Henson explores the way in which gender attitudes are expressed both in descriptions of landscape as the human body and in ideas of nature Henson discusses the influence of eighteenth century aesthetic theory particularly on Bront and Eliot and argues that Ruskinian aesthetics Darwinism and other scientific preoccupations of an industrializing economy changed constructions of landscape in the later nineteenth century Henson examines the conventions of reading landscape including the implied expectations of the reader the question of the gendered narrator how place defines the kind of action and characters in the novels the importance of landscape in creating mood the pastoral as a moral marker for readers and the influence of changing aesthetic theory on the implied painterly models that the three authors reproduce in their work She also considers how each writer defines the concept of Englishness against an internal or colonial Other Alongside these concerns Henson interrogates the ancient trope that equates woman with nature and the effect of comparing women to natural objects or offering them as objects of the male gaze typically to diminish or control them Informed by close readings Henson s study offers an original approach to the significances of landscape in the realist nineteenth century novel

In Search of Authenticity Jacob Golomb,2012-11-12 Great philosophers such as Kierkegaard Nietzsche and Sartre have clearly been preoccupied by the possibility of authenticity In this study Jacob Golomb looks closely at the literature and writings of these philosophers in his analysis of their ethics Golomb s writings shows his passionate commitment to the quest for the authenticity particularly in our climate of post modern scepticism He argues that existentialism is all the more pertinent and relevant today when set against the general disillusionment which characterises the late twentieth century This book is invaluable reading for those who have been fascinated by figures like Camus s Meursault Sartre s Matthieu and Nietzsche s Zarathustra

Mrs. Arthur Margaret Oliphant,2024-07-30 Shakespeare, Violence and Early Modern Europe Andrew Hiscock,2022-02-17 Shakespeare Violence and Early Modern Europe broadens our understanding of the final years of the last Tudor monarch revealing the truly international context in which they must be understood Uncovering the extent to which Shakespeare s dramatic art intersected with European politics Andrew Hiscock brings together close readings of the history plays compelling insights into late Elizabethan political culture and renewed attention to neglected continental accounts of Elizabeth I With fresh perspective the book charts the profound influence that Shakespeare and ambitious courtiers had upon succeeding generations of European writers dramatists and audiences following the turn of the sixteenth century Informed by early modern and contemporary cultural debate this book demonstrates how the study of early modern violence can illuminate ongoing crises of interpretation concerning brutality victimization and complicity today

The Roots of Power Maxine Sheets-Johnstone,1994 Sheets Johnstone critically examines the work of contemporary theorists including Judith Butler Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Jean Paul Sartre and Jacques Derrida in an effort to recover the lived body and its impact on gendered existence and power relations Deeply critical of feminist writers who minimize biological experience she argues that theorists must thoroughly consider the evolutionary body in order to understand its cultural reworkings Choice review

Death and the Displacement of Beauty: Foundations of violence Grace Jantzen,2004 Foundations of Violence enters the ancient world of Homer Plato and

Aristotle to explore the genealogy of violence in Western thought through its emergence in Greece and Rome

Someone Michael Lucey, 2019-04-05 Imagine trying to tell someone something about yourself and your desires for which there are no words What if the mere attempt at expression was bound to misfire to efface the truth of that ineluctable something In Someone Michael Lucey considers characters from twentieth century French literary texts whose sexual forms prove difficult to conceptualize or represent The characters expressing these misfit sexualities gravitate towards same sex encounters Yet they differ in subtle but crucial ways from mainstream gay or lesbian identities whether because of a discordance between gender identity and sexuality practices specific to a certain place and time or the fleetingness or non exclusivity of desire Investigating works by Simone de Beauvoir Colette Jean Genet and others Lucey probes both the range of same sex sexual forms in twentieth century France and the innovative literary language authors have used to explore these evanescent forms As a portrait of fragile sexualities that involve awkward and delicate maneuvers and modes of articulation Someone reveals just how messy the ways in which we experience and perceive sexuality remain even to ourselves

ReMembering Osiris Tom Hare, 1999 The story of Osiris is one of the central cultural myths of ancient Egypt a story of dismemberment and religious passion that also exemplifies attitudes about personal identity sexuality and the transfer of royal power It is moreover a story of death and the overcoming of death and in this it lies at the center of our own means of engagement with ancient Egypt ReMembering Osiris takes as its focus this tale as it is recorded in Egyptian texts and memorialized on the walls of temples and tombs Since such a focus is attainable only through Egyptian representational systems especially hieroglyphs the book also engages broader questions of writing and visual representation decipherment controversies about the ideograph and the relation between visual images and writing

The Penetration of Arabia David George Hogarth, 1904 Record of the development of western knowledge concerning the Arabian peninsula

The Connoisseur, 1925

The Disappointed Bridge Richard Pine, 2014-06-02 This original study is the first major critical appraisal of Ireland's post colonial experience in relation to that of other emergent nations The parallels between Ireland India Latin America Africa and Europe establish bridges in literary and musical contexts which offer a unique insight into independence and freedom and the ways in which they are articulated by emergent nations They explore the master servant relationship the functions of narrative and the concepts of nationalism map making exile schizophrenia hybridity magical realism and disillusion The author offers many incisive answers to the question What happens to an emerging nation after it has emerged

Applying: To Derrida J. Brannigan, Ruth Robbins, Julian Wolfreys, 1997-01-12 Striking out from a number of new headings and in a number of new directions each of the essays in this collection pushes at the borders of their topics disciplines and ways of thinking providing innovative and inventive insights into the work and application of Jacques Derrida on a diverse range of themes including Irish identity communication ethics love tele technology Victorian studies the limits of philosophy translation otherness and literature demonstrating that today despite repeated accusations over recent years that the work of Derrida has become passe there is more vitality and spirit in engaging with the writings of Derrida than ever before
