critical understanding of the factors that influence commercial management practice. It also identifies generic aspects of this practice and provides a theoretical foundation to these activities by reference to existing and emergent theories and concepts as well as to relevant management best practice. The book is structured into four parts. Part 1: Introduction. Commercial Management in Project Environments explores the nature of commercial practice within project oriented organisations at the buyer seller interface. It presents a Commercial Management framework which illustrates the multiple interactions and connections between the purchaser's procurement cycle and a supplier's bidding and implementation cycles. Additionally it outlines the principle activities undertaken by the commercial function, identifies the skills and abilities that support these activities and reviews the theories and concepts that underpin commercial practice. Finally it identifies areas of commonality of practice with other functions found within project oriented organisations plus sources of potential conflict and misunderstanding. Part 2: Elements of Commercial Theory and Practice covers commercial leadership, exploring strategy, risk and uncertainty, management, financial decision making and key legal issues. Part 3: Approaches to Commercial Practice addresses best practice management and commercial and contracting strategies and tactics. Finally Part 4: Case Studies offers two extended case studies: Football Stadiums: the Millennium Stadium, Cardiff; the Emirates Stadium, Islington and Wembley Stadium, London; and Heathrow Terminal 5. The book provides a one stop shop to the many topics that underpin commercial management practice from both a demand buy side and a supply sell side perspective. It will help develop an understanding of the issues influencing commercial management: leadership, strategy, risk, financial, legal, best practice management and commercial and contracting strategy and tactics. This book's companion website is at www.wiley.com/go/lowecommercialmanagement and offers invaluable resources for both students and lecturers: PowerPoint slides for lecturers on each chapter; Sample exam questions for students to practice; Weblinks to key journals and relevant professional bodies.

Sustainable Rural Transformation Through Agro-Industries U.K. Srivastava, Pramila Srivastava, 2018-01-01 Indian economy is undergoing structural changes The share of agriculture and allied activities in GDP has declined over the years On farm Jobs are diminishing or stagnant There is a need to generate off farm jobs through secondary and tertiary processing of agriculture crop horticulture animal husbandry fisheries forest produce raw material and these are not increasing to keep pace with the needs despite potential In India more than 75% of agro processing is done by informal and small enterprises But most informal and small unit suffer from market and technology constraints Therefore they cannot go for higher value addition from the main products and from the by products These informal and small enterprises are not in a position to create an integrated value chain which can have links with the farmers As technology is outmoded these units are not in a position to give quality assurance and meet food safety standards Their products are marketed only in less demanding nearby local markets World over there is transition from informal and small agro industrial enterprises to large units which are competitive in terms of price and quality equitable not exploiting any member of value chain and inclusive treating farmers as strategic business partners rather than adversaries They use latest and innovative technology and have national and international markets for selling their products They enjoy scale economies are able to comply with national and international standards of quality assurance and go for higher level of value addition They can forge linkages with the farmers through contract farming and direct procurement and assure their raw material supply by treating the farmers as strategic business partners But these enterprises require the enabling conditions which make it possible to run the enterprises profitably along with transformation of rural areas Over the years the Government of India and nearly all the State Governments have now created most attractive enabling environment Therefore in our assessment India is poised for a great leap in investments in food processing and marketing The book contains 18 chapters dealing with the entire project cycle of agro industries for sustainable rural transformation The most insightful part is the 12 real life case studies The book would be useful to agro entrepreneurs agro processing industries policy makers bankers management consultants students of agriculture universities cooperative management training institutions and MBA students
