Made in Africa Carol Newman, John Page, John Rand, 2016-02-23 Why is there so little industry in Africa Over the past forty years industry has moved from the developed to the developing world yet Africa s share of global manufacturing has fallen from about 3 percent in 1970 to less than 2 percent in 2014 Industry is important to low income countries It is good for economic growth job creation and poverty reduction Made in Africa Learning to Compete in Industry outlines a new strategy to help African industry compete in global markets This book draws on case studies and econometric and qualitative research from Africa and emerging Asia to understand what drives firm level competitiveness in low income countries The results show that while traditional concerns such as infrastructure skills and the regulatory environment are important they alone will not be sufficient for Africa to industrialize The book also addresses how industrialization strategies will need to adapt to the region's growing resource abundance

The purpose of this book is to help organisations further their aspirations and work with innovation. Navigating the Complexity Across the Peace-Sustainability-Climate Security Nexus
 Bernard Amadei, 2023-11-28. Promoting peace and sustainability in human development while accounting for the risks associated with the impact of climate change on society has become more imperative than ever when addressing humanity's challenges of the twenty-first century. There is enough evidence that peace, sustainability, and climate security are entangled with multiple complex interactions and cannot be dealt with in isolation and independently from the environment and the numerous systems with which they interact. Yet the intersection of peace, sustainability, and climate security or their opposites, i.e. conflict, unsustainability, and climate vulnerability, is rarely articulated with a systemic mindset. A multi-solving nexus approach is more appropriate to capture the complexity and uncertainty of how the three sectors of peace, sustainability, and climate security play a role in community development, the nature of their causal chains, and the feedback on how community development affects the three sectors. Navigating the Complexity Across the Peace-Sustainability-Climate Security Nexus explores the value proposition of using a systems approach, methodology, and tools to comprehend and model that dynamic. Features of the book: Explores the interaction between the different components of peace and the relationship between peace, sustainability, and climate security using semi-qualitative and quantitative tools. Explains how climate adaptation and mitigation are related to peace or conflict. Presents generic system dynamics modeling that can be used in different contexts.

With and Without Galton N. L. Krementsov, 2018. In 1865 British polymath Francis Galton published his initial thoughts about the scientific field that would become eugenics. The same year Russian physician Vasilii Florinskii addressed similar issues in a sizeable treatise entitled Human Perfection and Degeneration. Initially unheralded, Florinskii's book would go on to have a remarkable afterlife in twentieth and twenty-first century Russia. In this lucid and insightful work, Nikolai Krementsov argues that the concept of eugenics brings together ideas, values, practices, and fears energised by a focus on the future. It has proven so seductive to different groups over time because it provides a way to grapple with fundamental existential questions of human nature and destiny. With and Without Galton develops this argument by tracing the life story of Florinskii's monograph from its uncelebrated arrival amid the Russian empire's Great Reforms to its reissue after the Bolshevik Revolution, its decline under Stalinism and its subsequent resurgence first as a founding document of medical genetics and most recently as a manifesto for nationalists and racial purists. Kremmentsov's meticulously researched biography of a book sheds light not only on the peculiar fate of eugenics in Russia but also on its convoluted transnational history, elucidating the field's protean nature and its continuing and contested appeal to diverse audiences, multiple local trajectories and global trends. It is required reading for historians of eugenics, science, medicine, education, literature and Russia, and it will also appeal to the general reader looking for a deeper understanding of this challenging subject. Publisher's website: The Land Governance Assessment Framework Klaus Deininger, Harris Selod, Anthony Burns, 2012. Increased global demand for land posits the need for well-designed country-level land policies to protect long-held rights, facilitate land access and address any constraints that land policy may pose for broader growth. While the implementation of land reforms can be a lengthy process, the need to swiftly identify key land policy challenges and devise responses that allow the monitoring of progress in a way that minimizes conflicts and supports broader development goals is clear. The Land Governance Assessment Framework (LGAF) makes a substantive contribution to the land sector by providing a quick and innovative tool to monitor land governance at the country level. The LGAF offers a comprehensive diagnostic tool that covers five main areas for policy intervention: Legal and institutional framework, Land use planning, management and taxation, Management of public land, Public provision of land information and Dispute resolution and conflict management. The LGAF assesses these areas through a set of detailed indicators that are rated on a scale of pre-coded statements from lack of good governance to good practice. While land governance can be highly technical in nature and tends to be addressed in a partial and sporadic manner, the LGAF posits a tool for a comprehensive assessment taking into account the broad range of issues that land governance encompasses while enabling those unfamiliar with land to grasp its full complexity. The LGAF will make it possible for policymakers to make sense of the technical levels of the land sector, benchmark governance, identify areas that require further attention and monitor progress. It is intended to assist countries in prioritizing reforms in the land sector by providing a holistic diagnostic review that can inform policy dialogue in a clear and targeted manner. In addition to presenting the LGAF tool, this book includes detailed case studies on its implementation in five selected countries: Peru, the Kyrgyz Republic, Ethiopia, Indonesia and Tanzania. Diplomatic Asylum Laura Hughes-Gerber, 2021-05-12. Following the vexed codification attempts of the International Law Commission and the relevant jurisprudence of the International Court of Justice, this book addresses the permissibility of the practice of diplomatic asylum under general international law. In the light of a wealth of recent practice, most prominently the case of Julian Assange, the main objective of this book is to ascertain whether or not the practice of granting asylum within the premises of the diplomatic mission finds foundation under general international law In doing so it explores the legal framework of the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations 1961 the regional treaty framework of Latin America customary international law and a possible legal basis for the practice on the basis of humanitarian considerations In cases where the practice takes place without a legal basis this book aims to contribute to bridging the legal lacuna created by the rigid nature of international diplomatic law with the absolute nature of the inviolability of the mission premises facilitating the continuation of the practice of diplomatic asylum even where it is without legal foundation It does so by proposing solutions to the problem of diplomatic asylum This book also aims to establish the extent to which international law relating to diplomatic asylum may presently find itself within a period of transformation indicative of both a change in the nature of the practice as well as exploring whether recent notions of humanity are superseding the traditional fundamentals of the international legal system in this regard
