Berryman,1983 The Age of Catastrophe John David Ebert,2012-09-18 Disasters both natural and man made are on the rise Indeed a catastrophe of one sort or another seems always to be unfolding somewhere on the planet We have entered into a veritable Age of Catastrophes which have grown both larger and more complex and now routinely very widespread in scope

The old days of the geographically isolated industrial accidents of the sinking of a Titanic or the explosion of a Hindenburg together with their isolated causes and limited effects are over Now disasters on the scale of Hurricane Katrina the BP oil spill or the Japan tsunami and nuclear reactor accident threaten to engulf large swaths of civilization This book analyzes the efforts of Westerners to keep the catastrophes outside while maintaining order on the inside of society These efforts are breaking down Nature and Civilization have become so intertwined they can no longer be separated Natural disasters moreover are becoming increasingly more difficult to differentiate from man made Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
