My Footprints on the Sands of Time Bethwell A. Ogot, 2003 While Allan Ogot's circuits of influence have been very wide and while he has participated in conferences and forums around the world he has never yielded his intellectual and personal anchorage in Kenya though he has had numerous opportunities to accept distinguished chairs overseas Extraordinarily Allan Ogot has sustained his incredible level of service and scholarship through shifting and challenging conditions within Kenya and within Africa navigating changing economic and political circumstances His steady hand and persistent commitment to the highest ideals of scholarly engagement and community provide remarkable model for all who are dedicating themselves and will dedicate themselves to Africanist scholarship This autobiography provides a commentary on the history of Kenya as seen through Allan Ogot's life experiences African Dynamics in a Multipolar World, 2013-05-16 Fifty years after the foundation of the OAU and the consolidation of most African states and institutions the international panorama and Africa's position in it have changed considerably The world's geopolitical and economic configuration has evolved with new actors appearing in a new period of globalization In tune with ECAS 2013 this volume proposes that the experiences appearing in Africa question dominant paradigms in terms of political practice and academic reflection and thus offer a clear challenge to the academic community The volume offers clues to answer questions such as What is the impact of the current processes of globalization for African countries and African citizens How should African Studies be engaged to gauge African dynamics both at a local and global level What interdisciplinary means and tools should be brought in to produce an epistemologically relevant view or narrative of the issues under analysis Multilingualism and the Public Sector in South Africa Munene Mwaniki, 2012-02-01 Multilingualism and the Public Sector in South Africa contributes to the discourse on language in South Africa with a specific focus on multilingualism and the public sector The book argues for and demonstrates the relevance of putting into place appropriate language policies to help the majority of the people of South Africa take an active part in nation building endeavours processes in which the public sector is key The discussion tackles the intricacies of the public sector from a constitutional legislative and policy human resource and organisational culture capital and infrastructure point of view and builds a case for the provision of multilingual services in the public sector as the benchmark of public sector service provision This is a very useful piece of work in terms of its contribution to the general field of language and development The author is arguing for and demonstrating the relevance of putting into place appropriate language policies to help a majority of the people of South Africa take an active part in nation building This can be done through many channels and the Public Sector is one of the key areas that need to take up this challenge Many people linguists included speak of the relevance of language and multilingualism but very few are able to illustrate it in an area of relevance such as the Public Sector This is research that will be of interest to specialists for sure but also to the layman simply interested in finding out more about the relevance of multilingualism to society not just in terms of social and cultural heritage but also in terms of its contribution to an improved economic output Paulin DJIT School of Humanities and Languages University of Western Sydney Australia      Urban Environment and Infrastructure Anthony G. Harman, Martin Hayden, Thanh Nghi Pham, 2009-12-16 Vietnam is a dynamic member of the community of Southeast Asian nations Consistent with aspirations across the region it is seeking to develop its higher education system as rapidly as possible Vietnam's approach stands out however as being extremely ambitious Indeed it may be at risk of attempting to do too much too quickly By 2020 for example Vietnam expects its higher education system to be advanced by modern standards and highly competitive in international terms This vision faces many challenges The economy though growing rapidly remains reliant on the availability of unskilled labour and the exploitation of natural resources and decision making in many areas of public life continues to be hamstrung by a legacy of over regulation and centralised control A large number of goals and objectives have been set for reform of the higher education system by 2020 The success of these reforms will have a major bearing on the future quality of the system This sober assessment Vietnam's global competitiveness forms a backdrop to the subject matter of this book that is the state of Vietnam's higher education system The book provides a comprehensive and scholarly review of various dimensions of the higher education system in Vietnam including its recent history its structure and governance its teaching and learning culture its research and research commercialisation environment its socio economic impact its strategic planning processes its progress with quality accreditation and its experience of internationalisation and privatisation      French Realism and the Dutch Masters Petra ten-Doesschate Chu, 1975

Menander to Marivaux: The History of a Comic Structure E.J.H. Greene, 1977 The author examines comedies based on a structure first used by Menander in the fourth century B C and brought to its precise formulations and brilliance by Marivaux in the eighteenth century A D      Pidgins and Creoles: Volume 1, Theory and Structure John A.

Holm, 1988-05-05 This first volume of Holm's major survey of pidgins and creoles provides an up to date and readable introduction to a field of study that has become established only in the past few decades Written for both students and general readers with a basic knowledge of linguistics the book's original perspective will also attract specialists in the field seeking a broad overview of the linguistic relationships among these languages Creolized or restructured versions of English French Spanish Dutch Portuguese and other languages arose during European colonial expansion These resulted in such creoles as Jamaican Haitian Papiamentu and some one hundred others as well as such semi creoles as Afrikaans non standard Brazilian Portuguese Papiamentu and American Black English Scholars have tended to work on particular language varieties in relative isolation making comparative research into the genesis development and structure of creoles difficult In writing this book Holm draws on broad studies of many languages to make clear how far reaching creoles similarities are and to challenge current linguistic theories on creoles and pidgins The emphasis of this volume is largely empirical rather than descriptive Its core is a comparative study of creoles based on European languages in Africa and the Caribbean that demonstrates the striking similarities among the languages in terms of their lexical semantics phonology and syntax A forthcoming volume provides a socio historic overview of variety development and text examples with translations of the restructured languages
