1. Read the report and answer the questions:

Rhino poaching is increasing.

A bloody battle rages between government and the mafia-poaching of rhinos. About 250 rhinos were hunted in 2010. "Traffic", a network conservation market, the company that monitoring living natural resources, had earlier indicated that poaching in 2008 had dramatically increased. This is attributed to a rising demand for rhino horn demand in Asian markets. The selling- price of rhino horn is up to R429 000. In 2005 a Vietnam government official claimed rhino horn healed him from cancer. In China rhino horn is still in used in traditional medicine. 16th Century Li shih Chen a pharماسist wrote that rhino horn could heal snake-bite, headache and vomiting.

Stop poaching!

Suggestions: The rhino's horn must be sawn off when they are young. Technology can also be used to implant a "Pro Tag Device" in the horn. The rhino's movement pattern can be followed and if there is a change there will be an alarm in form as a SMS message, being sent to the control system. The law enforcers say the punishment for poachers must be imprisonment and not be fined. More armed patrols and resources are required to stop poachers.

Rhino Poaching Memo For Grade 11marks:

The Times Index, 2010 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Times educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement The Wall Street Journal, 1980 The Guardian Index, 1987 Rhino Poaching Janina Naef, 2016 Rhino horn is very popular in Asia as it is a status symbol and used as medicine That is one reason why the number of these animals is decreasing continuously In 2007 13 rhinos were poached in South Africa while in 2015 the number increased to 1175 rhinos This Matura Paper deals with problems of rhino poaching in South Africa It poses into the question if it is still possible to see rhinos in the future and examines what should be done to save this species from extinction Therefore 5 theses has been stated which consist of political financial protection measures and enlightenment of local and Asian people Thereby an interview has been conducted with a conservationist in addition to research in a volunteering project in South Africa regarding these theses The results prove the problems already stated If there are no changes in one of these problems the rhino doubtfully has a future

Operation Lock and the War on Rhino Poaching John Hanks, 2015 The definitive account of a daring and controversial covert operation to stop the aggressive illegal trade in rhino horn in the 1980s Development of a Rhino Anti-poaching Model for Game Farms and Nature Reserves in the Free State Province of South Africa H.L. Jordaan, 2018 During the last ten years the rhino populations of South Africa have suffered under an intense poaching onslaught This onslaught has moved to the Free State Province of South Africa and there is a justified concern that its rhino populations are at risk To protect the rhinos in the Province a need exists to manage the risk of poaching through a practical rhino anti poaching model which can assist to protect them effectively This Rhino Anti Poaching Model can determine and predict a poaching risk can identify weaknesses can assist to address problem areas and will enable efficient monitoring It is imperative to know which rhino species occurred in the Free State Province in historical times to ensure that the correct rhino species is protected against the risk of poaching and that they be kept in a suitable habitat Nine farms in the Free Sate have rhino as a prefix in their names which may be an indication that rhino did occur in the Province Various historical photos and literature give a retrospective view and show that there was insufficient browsing vegetation for black rhinos to survive The occurrence of open grassland however suggests that white rhinos did occur in those specific areas during the time of the first pioneers During this study period a count of rhinos was done and currently there are 669 white rhinos and 11 black rhinos in the Province thus a total of 680 rhinos in the Free State Province The South African Constitution mandated the State to enforce measures that will ensure adequate environmental protection for the benefit of future generations The South African government promulgated a myriad of new environmental legislation Several international agreements were also introduced as enforcement tools to regulate rhinos The enforcement measures are noble but out of balance with many inspectors but too few law enforcement officials It also over regulates and ensnare officials in minor issues A brief discussion on the latest technological innovations gives insight to the purpose of its development and effectiveness in combating rhino poaching. There are currently no technical or strategic solutions to save rhinos from poaching; therefore, a combination of techniques is needed. Although self-manufactured unconventional devices seem to be more efficient to deceive poachers, a combination with the latest technological equipment and conventional strategies might be the best solution to counter rhino poaching. Free State rhino farmers own 90% of the Province's rhinos. However, these rhino farmers lack the appropriate security measures required to adequately protect their rhinos. A questionnaire was developed and data were collected providing statistics on the current stance of security measures on rhino sites in the Province. It showed that 80% of rhino poaching occurs in rhino camps bordering public roads, 69% of the rhino sites located within 20km from the nearest town reported poaching, and 77% of large rhino camps are prone to poaching incidents. 57% of the respondents experienced rhino poaching on their sites. Through the questionnaire, it was gathered that rhino farmers in the Province are not vested in the concept of using trained rhino security. A Production Loss Formula was constructed that calculates the production loss of a poached rhino.

The Decline of the Black Rhino in Zimbabwe Tom Milliken, Kristin Nowell, Jorgen B. Thomsen, 1993. An evaluation of Zimbabwe's Black Rhino conservation strategy in the face of continuous poaching and illegal trade in rhino horn and an assessment of future options for rhino conservation.

Economic Incentives and Poaching of the One-Horned Indian Rhinoceros in Nepal Mahesh Poudyal, 2005. Despite a relatively successful conservation programme for the endangered one-horned rhinoceros in the National Parks of the Terai region, poaching remains one of the major threats to its survival in Nepal. In recent years, there has been an alarming rise in the number of rhinos poached: over 100 rhinos were taken in and around the Royal Chitwan National Park (RCNP) between 1998 and 2003. Although rhino poaching levels are influenced by the price of rhino horn on the international black market, amongst a host of other socio-economic factors, there have not been any attempts to study the reasons behind poaching in Nepal using econometric models developed and applied elsewhere. This study uses econometric models to explain changes in the level of poaching in the RCNP over a 30-year period. Factors that are thought to influence the number of rhinos poached in the RCNP include: i) rhino population, ii) effectiveness of anti-poaching measures, iii) penalties for poaching, iv) availability of alternative economic opportunities, v) opportunity costs of poaching, and vi) the price of rhino horn. The results indicate that anti-poaching units (APUs) in their original organisational and operational form were highly successful in controlling the level of poaching in the RCNP. Furthermore, the availability of local economic opportunities seemed to reduce the level of poaching significantly. However, the penalties imposed on the convicted poachers were found to have little or no effect on the level of rhino poaching in the RCNP. The results also indicate a sharp rise in the number of rhinos poached during the years of the Maoist insurgency in the country compared to the years before. Although the analysis is still very simplistic, it provides valuable insights into the factors that have affected the level of poaching in the RCNP over the years. It is hoped that these insights will be helpful in formulating effective policies to tackle rhino poaching especially in and around the RCNP where Nepal's largest population of one horned rhinoceros is found
