ICMLG2016-4th International Conference on Management, Leadership and Governance Dmitry Vasilenko and Natalia Khazieva, Intellectual Decolonisation George Hull, 2024-10-18 This book puts contemporary calls for decolonisation in context Featuring an interdisciplinary team of scholars from around the world the book explores and critically assesses the diverse theoretical visions which inform calls for decolonisation of the mind today Contemporary calls to decolonise focus less on politico economic relations between states more on culture and ideas Sometimes museums are the target sometimes universities or academic disciplines sometimes entire legal systems Commentators and activists speak out for others against intellectual decolonisation decolonisation of the mind But what is the colonisation which intellectual decolonisation undoes Under what circumstances can inculcation or acceptance of ideas constitute colonialism As this book demonstrates advocates of intellectual decolonisation give very different indeed incompatible answers to these questions Critically examining conceptualisations of decolonisation spanning a century and four continents the book explores what is at stake in the choice between these theoretical alternatives Some see the aim of decolonisation as truth via the removal of distorting effects of power and bias Others troublingly subordinate truth and knowledge to ethnic or regional identity potentially paving the way for culturally authoritarian politics Intellectual Decolonisation Critical Perspectives is an indispensable resource for teachers students and scholars seeking to deepen their understanding of debates about decolonisation of the mind Individual chapters will interest researchers of the new right wing ethnonationalist political ideologies emerging in Europe Asia and Africa Originally published as a special issue of Social

Dynamics this book is also a guide for anyone wondering what decolonisation is all about History beyond apartheid Thula Simpson, 2023-04-18 This edited volume encompasses a range of themes and approaches relevant to the field of South African history today as viewed from the perspective of practicing historians at the cutting edge of research in the discipline The collection features the historians offering critical reflection on the theoretical and methodological aspects of their work This involves them both looking back at the inherited historiographical tradition in the respective areas of their research while also pointing forwards to possible future directions for scholarly engagement Green Skills Research in South Africa Eureka Rosenberg, Presha Ramsarup, Heila Lotz-Sisitka, 2019-12-05 This book proposes transformative realist methodology for skills research and planning through an analysis of case studies of the changing world of work new learning pathways and educational system challenges Studies of the green economy and sustainability transitions are a growing field internationally however there are few books that link this interest to the development of skills This book draws on and showcases the experience and insights of researcher practitioners who are at the cutting edge in this emerging field internationally and in South Africa The context for this book is South Africa but application is worldwide In many ways indicative of the global picture South Africa is in the grip of economic and environmental imperatives searching for safe and just transitions The authors present a new embedded transitioning systems model for studying skills for a sustainable just future This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development ecological economics and skills planning

Handbook of Research Methods and Applications for Social Movements Laurence Cox, Anna Szolucha, Alberto Arribas Lozano, Sutapa Chattopadhyay, 2024-01-18 This cutting edge and authoritative Handbook covers a broad spectrum of social movement research methodologies offering expert analysis and detailed accounts of the ways by which research can effectively be carried out on social movements and popular protests Addressing practice oriented questions this Handbook engages with both theoretical and political considerations unpacking the multidimensional nature of social movement research Realizing the Distinctive University Mark William Roche, 2017-02-28 In Realizing the Distinctive University Vision and Values Strategy and Culture Mark William Roche changes the terms of the debate about American higher education A former dean of the College of Arts and Letters at the University of Notre Dame Roche argues for the importance of an institutional vision not simply a brand and while he extols the value of entrepreneurship he defines it in contrast to the corporate drive toward commercialization and demands for business management models Using the history of the German university to assess the need for and implementation of distinctive visions at American colleges and universities Roche's own vision benefits from his deep connection to both systems as well as his experience in the trenches working to realize the special mission of an American Catholic university Roche makes a significant contribution by delineating means for moving such an institution from vision to implementation Roche provides a road map to creating a superb arts and sciences college within a major research university and offers a rich analysis of five principles that have shaped the modern American university flexibility competition incentives accountability and community He notes the challenges and problems that surface with these categories and includes ample illustration of both best practices and personal missteps The book makes clear that even a compelling intellectual vision must always be linked to its embodiment in rhetoric support structures and community Throughout this unique and appealing contribution to the literature on higher education Roche avoids polemic and remains optimistic about the ways in which a faculty member serving in administration can make a positive difference Realizing the Distinctive University is a must read for academic administrators faculty members interested in the inner workings of the university and graduate students and scholars of higher education

Decolonisation after Democracy Laurence Piper, 2020-05-21 Decolonisation after Democracy addresses the provocative idea that we need to rid higher education of lingering forms of colonial knowledge This matters because in the colonial era much knowledge was put to the service of subjugating indigenous peoples and the assumptions from this era may linger into the present Examples of deep rooted and foundational forms of knowledge that carry colonial traits are normative binaries such as civilised and backward modern and traditional and rational and superstitious In addition some accounts of positive values like freedom equality justice and democracy may hide the assumption that the western experience is the norm from which other kinds are rendered imitations deviations or pathologies In this collection some of South Africa's leading political scientists and academics engage with the challenge of decolonising knowledge in the research and teaching of politics It includes new insights about the state international relations clientelism statesociety relations and land reform and introduces new ways to engage the colonial library curriculum reform and the marginality of historically black institutions Finally the contributors deal with the decolonial challenge posed by the FeesMustFall student movements reflecting on issues of revolutionary politics and gender and sexual violence This book was originally published as a special issue of Politikon

Leadership Strategies for Promoting Social Responsibility in Higher Education Enakshi Sengupta, Patrick Blessinger, Craig Mahoney, 2020-08-03 This book explores the theoretical underpinnings and interventions of CSR practised by universities across the globe and the role their leadership plays in promoting this It provides international examples from the US Africa Europe and Asia with implications and insights for university leadership staff and students

Natural Chelsea Mary Elise Johnson, 2024-10-15 How Black women celebrate their natural hair and uproot racialized beauty standards Hair is not simply a biological feature it's a canvas for expression Hair can be cut colored dyed covered gelled waxed plucked lasered dreadlocked braided and relaxed Yet its significance extends beyond mere aesthetics Hair can carry profound moral spiritual and cultural connotations serving as a reflection of one's beliefs heritage and even political stance In Natural Chelsea Mary Elise Johnson delves into the complex world surrounding Black women's hair and offers a firsthand look into the kitchens beauty shops conventions and blogs that make up the twenty first century natural hair movement the latest evolution in Black beauty politics Johnson shares her own hair story and amplifies the voices of women across the globe who after years of chemically relaxing their hair return to a natural style Johnson describes how many women initially transition to natural hair out of curiosity or as a wellness practice but come to view their choice as political upon confronting personal insecurities and social stigma both within and outside of the Black community She also investigates natural hair entrepreneurs who use their knowledge to create lucrative and socially transformative haircare ventures Distinct from a politics of respectability or Afrocentricity Johnson's argument is that today's natural hair movement advances a politics of authenticity She offers going natural as a practice of self love and acceptance a critique of exclusionary economic arrangements and an exploitative beauty industry and an act of anti racist political resistance Natural powerfully illustrates how the natural hair movement is part of a larger social change among Black women to assert their own purchasing power standards of beauty and bodily autonomy Films for the Colonies

Tom Rice,2019-10-01 Films for the Colonies examines the British Government's use of film across its vast Empire from the 1920s until widespread independence in the 1960s Central to this work was the Colonial Film Unit which produced distributed and through its network of mobile cinemas exhibited instructional and educational films throughout the British colonies Using extensive archival research and rarely seen films Films for the Colonies provides a new historical perspective on the last decades of the British Empire It also offers a fresh exploration of British and global cinema charting the emergence and endurance of new forms of cinema culture from Ghana to Jamaica Malta to Malaysia In highlighting the integral role of film in managing and maintaining a rapidly changing Empire Tom Rice offers a compelling and far reaching account of the media propaganda and the legacies of colonialism Transforming Research Methods in the Social Sciences

Angelo Flynn,Sherianne Kramer,2019-03-01 A look at the research methods in development across the global South Social science researchers in the global South and in South Africa particularly utilise research methods in innovative ways in order to respond to contexts characterised by diversity racial and political tensions socioeconomic disparities and gender inequalities These methods often remain undocumented a gap that this book starts to address Written by experts from various methodological fields Transforming Research Methods in the Social Sciences is a comprehensive collation of original essays and cutting edge research that demonstrates the variety of novel techniques and research methods available to researchers responding to these context bound issues It is particularly relevant for study and research in the fields of applied psychology sociology ethnography biography and anthropology In addition to their unique combination of conceptual and application issues the chapters also include discussions on ethical considerations relevant to the method in similar global South contexts Transforming Research Methods in the Social Sciences has much to offer to researchers professionals and others involved in social science research both locally and internationally Epistemic Freedom in Africa Sabelo

Ndlovu-Gatsheni,2018-06-27 Epistemic Freedom in Africa is about the struggle for African people to think theorize interpret the world and write from where they are located unencumbered by Eurocentrism The imperial denial of common humanity to some human beings meant that in turn their knowledges and experiences lost their value their epistemic virtue Now in the twenty first century descendants of enslaved displaced colonized and racialized peoples have entered academies across the world proclaiming loudly that they are human beings their lives matter and they were born into valid and legitimate knowledge systems that are capable of helping humanity to transcend the current epistemic and systemic crises Together they are engaging in diverse struggles for cognitive justice fighting against the epistemic line which haunts the twenty first century The renowned historian and decolonial theorist Sabelo J Ndlovu Gatsheni offers a penetrating and well argued case for centering Africa as a legitimate historical unit of analysis and epistemic site from which to interpret the world whilst simultaneously making an equally strong argument for globalizing knowledge from Africa so as to attain ecologies of knowledges This is a dual process of both deprovincializing Africa and in turn provincializing Europe The book highlights how the mental universe of Africa was invaded and colonized the long standing struggles for an African university and the trajectories of contemporary decolonial movements such as Rhodes Must Fall and Fees Must Fall in South Africa This landmark work underscores the fact that only once the problem of epistemic freedom has been addressed can Africa achieve political cultural economic and other freedoms This groundbreaking new book is accessible to students and scholars across Education History Philosophy Ethics African Studies Development Studies Politics International Relations Sociology Postcolonial Studies and the emerging field of Decolonial Studies The Open Access versions Chapter 1 and Chapter 9 available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9780429492204> have been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Afterimages of Apartheid Kylie Thomas, 2025-10-29 Afterimages of Apartheid shows how photographs of the past can be mobilised as a critical tool for understanding the ongoing effects of apartheid in contemporary South Africa Through close readings of significant images made during and after apartheid the book shows how photography works as a means of documentation commemoration and resistance Written by one of South Africa's leading scholars of visual history the book considers the ways in which photographs can be used to contest impunity for state violence Afterimages includes chapters on the Sharpeville and Marikana massacres on the re opening of cases of human rights violations that remain unresolved in the aftermath of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and on contemporary protests against the post apartheid state The book makes a powerful case for the role of photographs in drawing the viewer into the past time they represent issuing a call to the living to remember respond and react This vivid account of the photography of apartheid will be of interest to students and researchers across the fields of South African history visual studies memory studies art history photography studies and transitional justice
