Mobile internet data has the characteristics of large scale variety of patterns and complex association. On the one hand it needs an efficient data processing model to provide support for data services and on the other hand it needs certain computing resources to provide data security services. Due to the limited resources of mobile terminals it is impossible to complete large scale data computation and storage. However outsourcing to third parties may cause risks in user privacy protection. This monograph focuses on key technologies of data service outsourcing and privacy protection including the existing methods of data analysis and processing, fine grained data access control through effective user privacy protection mechanisms and data sharing in the mobile internet.
