Learning Transformed Eric C. Sheninger, 2017-06-06 With all that we know about how students learn the nature of the world they will face after graduation and the educational inequities that have existed for centuries maintaining a traditional one size fits all approach to teaching and learning is tantamount to instructional malpractice International security the success of global economies and sustainability as a global society all depend on the success of our education system in the years to come It is our obligation to prepare our students for their future not our past Authors Eric C Sheninger and Thomas C Murray outline eight keys each a piece of a puzzle for transforming the K 12 education system of teaching and learning to intentionally design tomorrow's schools so today's learners are prepared for success and stand ready to create new industries find new cures and solve world problems The traditional model of schooling ultimately prepares students for the industrial model of the past If we want our students to become successful citizens in a global society we must dramatically shift to a more personal approach Failure is not an option We can no longer wait Let Learning Transformed show you how you can be a part of the solution The authors encourage you to use the hashtag LT8Keys to continue the discussion online

Using Rubrics for Performance-Based Assessment Todd Stanley, 2021-10-03 Writing a rubric that can accurately evaluate student work can be tricky Rather than a single right or wrong answer rubrics leave room for interpretation and thus subjectivity How does a teacher who wants to use performance based assessment in this day and age of educational data and SMART goals find a way to reliably assess student work The solution is to write clear rubrics that allow the evaluator to objectively assess student work This book will show classroom teachers not only how to create their own objective rubrics which can be used to evaluate performance assessments but also

how to develop rubrics that measure hard to assess skills such as leadership and grit and how to empower their own students to create rubrics that are tailored to their work

Writing the Classroom Stephen E. Neaderhiser,2022-11-21 Writing the Classroom explores how faculty compose and use pedagogical documents to establish classroom expectations and teaching practices as well as to articulate the professional identities they perform both inside and outside the classroom The contributors to this unique collection employ a wide range of methodological frameworks to demonstrate how pedagogical genres even ones as seemingly straightforward as the class syllabus have lives extending well beyond the classroom as they become part of how college teachers represent their own academic identities advocate for pedagogical values and negotiate the many external forces that influence the act of teaching Writing the Classroom shines a light on genres that are often treated as two dimensional with purely functional purposes arguing instead that genres like assignment prompts course proposals teaching statements and policy documents play a fundamental role in constructing the classroom and the broader pedagogical enterprise within academia Writing the Classroom calls on experienced teachers and faculty administrators to critically consider their own engagement with pedagogical genres and offers graduate students and newer faculty insight into the genres that they may only now be learning to inhabit as they seek to establish their personal teacherly identities It showcases the rhetorical complexity of the genres written in the service of pedagogy not only for students but also for the many other audiences within academia that have a role in shaping the experience of teaching Contributors Michael Albright Lora Arduser Lesley Erin Bartlett Logan Bearden Lindsay Clark Dana Comi Zack K De Piero Matt Dowell Amy Ferdinandt Stolley Mark A Hannah Megan Knight Laura R Micciche Cindy Mooty Dustin Morris Kate Navickas Kate Nesbit Jim Nugent Lori A Ostergaard Cynthia Pengilly Jessica Rivera Mueller Christina Saidy Megan Schoen Virginia Schwarz Christopher Toth
