Problem of God Sami Pihlström, 2013-04 The book is a study of pragmatism and pragmatic pluralism in the philosophy of religion Through critical examinations of James's Dewey's and recent neopragmatists ideas it argues that key issues in the field including the debate between evidentialism and fideism and the problem of evil need rearticulation from a pragmatic pluralistic perspective Problems of Faith S.H. Smith, 2014-07-11 The material here was originally intended as a third section in Smith's previous offering The Problem of God but took on a life of its own to become a separate work The Problem of Faith is thus a sequel to the former work and deals with those questions with which all thinking believers wrestle: the nature of religious language, evil and the God of love, the concept of miracles and of prayer, the relationship between faith and reason, life after death and the problem of hell. The aim is to encourage the reader to engage afresh with these essential issues.

Williams's life journey with the question of God's existence, A Universe From Someone pulls together essays and opening speeches from debates, including the 2011 "God is not a delusion" debate at the Cambridge Union, that jointly cover a wide variety of theistic arguments. Rethinking Fundamental Theology Gerald O'Collins, 2011-05-27 This book identifies the distinguishing features of fundamental theology as distinct from philosophical theology, natural theology, apologetics, and other similar disciplines. Addressing the potential for confusion about basic Christian claims and beliefs, Gerald O'Collins sets out to relaunch fundamental theology as a discipline by presenting a coherent vision of basic theological questions and positions that lay the ground for work in specific areas of systematic theology. Rethinking Fundamental Theology examines central theological questions about God, human experience, and specifically religious experience: the divine revelation coming through the history of Israel and through the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus; human faith that responds to revelation; the nature of tradition that transmits the record and reality of revelation; the structure of biblical inspiration and truth, as well as basic issues concerned with the formation of the canon, the founding of the Church, with some leadership structures, the relationship between Christ's revelation and the faith of those who follow, other religions. O'Collins concludes with some reflections on theological method. Written with the scholarship and accessibility for which O'Collins is known and valued, this book will relaunch fundamental theology as a distinct and
