

The Outsiders theme essay

By Ashley Rawiri and Jasmine Goss

In the novel The Outsiders by S.E. Hinton, there are many ideas worth speaking about, one of which being identity and choices. There are multiple ways in which the author communicates this idea throughout the text, for example sometimes the choices you make in the past can affect you in the future, like when Ponyboy chooses to walk home alone, even when he knows it is dangerous. Secondly, not only do the choices you make affect your identity, but occasionally your identity will affect your choices, like when Ponyboy is so convinced that he is a stereotypical greaser that he begins to act like one, and finally, your choices can also affect the way people see you, like when Pony and Johnny rescue the children from the burning church and everyone begins to see them as heroes, instead of the greasers who killed another boy.

One important point about the theme of identity and choices in the novel The Outsiders by S.E. Hilton , is that the choices you make in the past can affect your future in many different ways. Even though he could have asked someone from the gang to come and get him, or waited for Soda Pop and Darry for a ride, Ponyboy chooses to walk home alone after he has seen a movie because he likes to watch movies undisturbed. He knew he shouldn't have because there was a chance of him getting jumped as shown in his quote "Greasers can't walk alone too much or they'll get jumped." Even though Ponyboy knows the consequences of his choice, he still decides to walk home alone anyway, which ends badly with a group of five socs in a red car following Ponyboy and jumping him. What the author wants us to learn from this is that if you properly assess the consequences of your actions you would pick the better choice instead of the wrong one .

A different example about the importance of the theme identity and choices in the novel The Outsiders by S.E. Hilton , is not only do your choices affect your identity , but sometimes you identity can affect the choices you make. When Ponyboy is at the gas station and scares the socs off with the glass bottle because he is so convinced he must be a greaser. He could have just talked to the socs in a normal way but the only way he knew how to handle the situation was through threatening and violence because he was a greaser. That was the way he had been brought up. He didn't know any different. A quote from the text is " I busted the end off my bottle and held on to the neck and tossed away my cigarette." Even though Ponyboy could have just asked the socs to leave because he was so sad and hurt, he chose violence because that was the only way he new how to handle the situation from what he had been brought up seeing. What the author wants us to learn from this is people can react to things differently based on what the have seen growing up.

Another important point about how the theme of identity and choices is shown throughout the novel The Outsiders, by S.E. Hinton is how the choices you make can affect the way people see you. An example of this from the text could be when Johnny and Ponyboy rescue the children from the burning church. After rescuing the children, everyone begins to see Pony and Johnny as heroes, instead of the greasers that they are, as mentioned in the newspaper which was headlined "JUVENILE DELINQUENTS TURN HEROES." This shows us that even though Ponyboy and Johnny come from a bad background, if they make the right choices they can break free and change the way people look at them. What the author wants us to learn from this is that it is not where we come from but the choices we make that make us who we are.

The theme of identity and choices is shown in numerous ways throughout the novel The Outsiders by S.E. Hinton. For example we learn from Ponyboy when he walks home alone one night that the choices we make in the past can affect us drastically in the future, we also learn that sometimes our identity can affect the choices we make, like when Ponyboy is so convinced that he is a 'typical greaser' that he begins to act like one, and finally we learn that the choices we make can also change the way people see us, like when Ponyboy and Johnny rescue the children from the burning church and become heroes. What we can learn from all of this is that our choices affect ourselves and the people around us, and they make us who we are.
