11.2.9.1 Xmu Atom Caching

In a Motif application, you can use XmInternAtom to cache atoms, so that when there are multiple instances of the same widget, only one query of the server will be done. However, Xmu provides an atom caching system that is somewhat more convenient for the atoms it supports.

Xmu's caching facility uses symbols similar to those defined in <X11/Xatom.h>, except that in this case they are macros that take an argument and call XmuInternAtom. For example, the macro for XA_TARGETS is defined as follows in <X11/Xmu.h>:

#define XA_TARGETS(d)            XmuInternAtom(d, _XA_TARGETS)

where d refers to a pointer to a Display structure. (This can be returned by the XtDisplay macro.) The XmuInternAtom function first tries to get the atom for the string "XA_TARGETS" from Xmu's internal cache. If Xmu doesn't yet have a value for the atom, it calls XInternAtom to make a server request. Because this facility makes only one query to the server, you can access the atoms in this way every time a selection is made without significant penalty. This allows you to place the XA_TARGETS() macro in your selection code instead of adding an instance part variable and setting it in the initialize method.

You might use this macro as follows in a convert_proc branch dedicated to handling the TARGETS target type:

if (*target == XA_TARGETS(XtDisplay(w))) { ...

The Xmu atom caching mechanism must be initialized before you can make calls of the form just shown. Example 11-9 shows the code that should be placed in the widget's initialize method to initialize this mechanism.

Example 11-9. BitmapEdit: initializing Xmu's atom caching mechanism in the initialize method
(void) XmuInternAtom( XtDisplay(new), XmuMakeAtom("NULL") );

11.2.9.2 Converting the Standard Selections

The Xmu routine XmuConvertStandardSelection can be used to respond to a TARGETS selection request, as well as to other standard targets defined by Xmu.

Example 11-10 shows the portion of the convert_proc for BitmapEdit that handles the standard targets.

This code is adapted from the standard client xclipboard, and can be copied almost directly into your widget.

Example 11-10. BitmapEdit: converting standard targets in the convert_proc
```
static Boolean
convert_proc(w, selection, target, type_return, value_return, length_return, format_return)
Widget w;
Atom *selection;
Atom *target;
Atom *type_return;
```
