RC Aircraft Don Cornwell, Nicholas Chaplin, Jeremiah Jones, 2015-05-12 Project Report from the year 2012 in the subject Engineering Mechanical Engineering grade A DeVry University course ECET 494 language English abstract The objective of this project is to design build and operate a GPS Guided Autopilot system for Radio Controlled Aircraft This product will have to be small lightweight aerodynamic and modular It will only have to rely on 1 channel input from the aircraft receiver for the RC Autopilot switching function It will have to be able to fly a predetermined route while having the ability for the consumer to override the autopilot feature if desired by using their remote control Our RC aircraft autopilot system will be interfaced with a computer in order to program the way points that will make up the flight plan All of these objectives are critical in order to have a functional RC aircraft autopilot system Our time frame for completion of this project is 32 weeks and our target for total cost for the build is 500 The product that we are proposing is a GPS Guided Autopilot System designed for radio controlled aircraft This project is a modular RC Autopilot Aircraft System that will be designed for small inexpensive and basic radio controlled unmanned aerial vehicles Although our target market will be RC hobbyists that are interested in flying their airplanes autonomously our system will also have the potential to expand to larger markets such as hobbyists flying helicopters as well as Unmanned Aerial Vehicles used in the military There will be three phases to this project Phase 1 is our goal and is dedicated as the Autopilot function once the aircraft has reached altitude Phase 2 is the addition of Autopilot landing and Phase 3 is the addition of Autopilot takeoff Phases 2 and 3 are left as optional and will be completed if and only if the team has enough time before the end of the series of Senior Project courses The project can be broken down into three basic modules to perform these tasks These modules are the Sensing module the Receiver Processor module and a flight Control module The combination of these three modules will be assembled to form the autopilot function The Sensing module will consist of a GPS antenna and a signal processor along with a 2 axis gyroscope and a 3 axis accelerometer The GPS signal from satellites will be processed into information that will be used by the receiver processor module to send flight path corrections to the flight control module to keep the aircraft on the programmed path The flight controls affected by the GPS signals will be the engine speed and the rudder

GPS Autopilot and Flight Director Systems Bruce

Bessette, 2017-04-04 Section 1 GPS Systems This section introduces the technician to the history and system design of the Global Positioning System This section will emphasize the operations and frequencies broadcasted from the satellites and how those frequencies are modulated Section 2 GPS Installations This section is the portion that covers the onboard equipment From early non approved models to the new TSO approved units today this section will cover the type of installations and how certain aircraft will use the position information Section 3 Flight Management Systems Section three is a review of aircraft Flight Management Systems FMS GPS systems only have one job to find the location of the aircraft as accurately as possible Before this technology the aircraft location on a map would have to be plotted then the progress of the aircraft's flight continuously updated by hand by the pilot The task of monitoring of all aspects of the process of flying and navigating an aircraft by the pilot can be called flight management The advance of GPS technology has brought to the cockpit ability to plot on a moving map the exact location of the aircraft

Section 4 Aircraft Documentation This section builds on Section 3 GPS installer Aircraft that are required to maintain their airworthiness must have documentation that proves that work This section covers documents types such as the variously Aircraft Equipment List Weight and Balance document FAA Form 337 for record major alterations and the Approved Flight Manual This section describes what approved data that can be used to alter an aircraft and how that record information be included in the FAA Form 337 is

Section 5 Aircraft Fundamentals This section is designed to cover the basic of aircraft construction and operations The reason for this section to help provide an understanding how an Autopilot system interfaces with the parts of the aircraft structure An autopilot system will need to mimic the actions and controls of the pilot and technicians will need to understand what the system is doing

Section 6 Introduction to Autopilots This section covers the history of autopilots in aircraft and what they are expected to do for the pilots First describing the three basic channels and the systems and control they move Then the individual controls and components are covered to include how those components connect to the aircraft systems

Section 7 Testing the Autopilot This part the book is designed to correspond with the Autopilot Installers part of the course At the lab section of this course the student is expected to install and test a basic general aviation autopilot system This section goes over how the specific systems operate and how the technician is to test and certify the new installation

Section 8 Air Carrier Auto Flight Systems This section covers more advanced autopilot systems that can be found in large air carrier aircraft Starting with the analog Boeing 727 system students will learn how to turn on engage and test a large aircraft autopilot system in all its various modes

Section 9 Flight Director Systems This section covers the system that assists pilot with visual cues when flying an aircraft Starting with the Attitude Director Indicator to the FMS Mode Annunciation panel technicians will understand how the information is presented to the pilot and how to simulate the inputs to test the system

Section 10 Automated Engine Controls This last section covers those automated mechanical and electronic systems used to monitor and control modern jet engines Beginning with the Engine Electronic Control EEC and ending the Full Authority Digital Engine Control System FADEC technicians will be introduced into the operation and monitoring of these throttle controls
