Dear Sir,

This is to state that my son, Matt Stuart is currently studying in UK and will be five years old by the end of this academic year. I am willing for his admission in class I in your school, once he completes his session.

My son is a decent student so far and his behaviour is pretty good. He takes efforts to learn new things and he is interested in sports as well. I consider your school with provide him enough scope to grow in future and get mentored by well qualified teachers.

I have attached his records of his nursery classes and my contact details with this letter. Please let me know when you can schedule his formal evaluation. Please contact me in case of any query.

Sincerely,

Riya Sharma

Suffering in Silence Donna Mac LCPC, 2015-09-29 Selective mutism is an anxiety disorder and its currently one of the most misunderstood under diagnosed and undertreated mental health conditions. When children with selective mutism feel expected or pressured to speak in social situations they become terrified. Therefore their level of anxiety significantly increases but by remaining silent their anxiety level slightly decreases obtaining some relief for themselves. For these children remaining silent is actually an ineffective coping mechanism or a maladapted solution to create a sense of safety within themselves. Hence their mouths freeze and they are silent This is temporary relief but longitudinally these children suffer in silence Due to the fact that many children will display normative shy behavior or even socially anxious behavior at times it can be challenging to discern if the child's behavior falls within normal limits or if the child actually demonstrates clinically significant behavior signifying a selective mutism diagnosis This can be confusing for parents teachers and even clinicians This manual is meant to help clarify this distinction and will also assist you in figuring out how to seek help ask the right questions and what you can expect from early intervention services school based services and holistic therapeutic and psychiatric services
