

The Ethics Of Living Jim Crow Summary

In The Ethics of Living Jim Crow we are introduced to the narrator, Richard Wright, born on 1908. The 20th century was supposed to be a period of change for African Americans in every state of The United States. After the civil war African American obtained the right to be free, national citizenship and voting rights. The laws created after the Civil War protected African Americans they were not followed entirely. In order to make it permissible to break the rules in some instances, the white society created Jim Crow laws that limited the rights to be free, national citizenship and voting. In his autobiographical sketch, Richard Wright highlights several instances in which African Americans are not only excluded from the general rights of a citizen but how they are also subjected to injustice and mistreatment. Wright divides his memories into nine sections, in the first one we are introduced to his home. He lives behind the railroad tracks and has nothing in his backyard but black cinders. On one occasion Wright recalls that his group of friends engaged in a fight with white kids. Wright's friends used cinders and the white kids used broken bottles. The fight ended, soon after Wright returned home and waited for his mom in the steps nursing his wound. Wright told her what happened and his mom proceeded to ask why he was always fighting. Instead of consoling him or treating his injuries she proceeded to inflict more damage on him. The motive for this was to "impart to Achieving Equal Educational Opportunity for Students of Color Richard R. Valencia, 2024-09-27 Valencia presents the most comprehensive theory based analysis to date on how society and schools are structurally organized and maintained to impede the optimal academic achievement of low SES marginalized K 12 Black and Latino Latina students compared to their privileged White counterparts The book interrogates how society contributes to educational inequality as seen in racialized patterns in income wealth housing and health and how public schools create significant obstacles for students of color as observed in reduced access to opportunities e g little access to high status curricula knowledge Valencia offers suggestions for achieving equal education e g implementing fairness of school funding improving teacher quality and providing students of color access to multicultural education by disrupting structural racism Considering the rapid aging of the White population and the sharp decline of White youth coupled with the explosive population growth of people of color this book argues that the American Imperative must be to assiduously mount an effort to provide an excellent education for students of color upon whom the nation will depend for a sizable proportion of its work force Book Features Examines how society and schools are failing Black and Latino Latina students principally Mexican Americans who are by far the largest Latino Latina group Uses theoretical frameworks that draw from analysis of structural inequality critical race theory anti deficit thinking narratives class by race covariation and an asset based perspective of students of color Discusses the American Imperative and the personal and economic consequences of not investing in students of color

How the Drug War Ruins American Lives Arthur Benavie Professor Emeritus, 2016-03-21 This book reveals the disturbing truth about how the escalation of the War on Drugs over the past 30 years has eroded the human and property rights of Americans while doing little to stop drug trafficking or use Unique in its perspective this eye opening book looks at the drug war as a rights issue and concludes that Americans civil liberties are clearly being violated The volume proceeds from two premises that over the past 30 years America s War on Drugs has done more harm than good and that if the United States is going to reform the criminal justice system the public must understand that this war is empowered by the profits it provides to law enforcement and other groups A central factor causing the upsurge in the drug war the author explains is the fact that laws were passed in the 1980s that allowed law enforcement to profit from seizing property based on scanty evidence and without criminal charges His meticulous research has revealed that this policing for profit is responsible for a variety of assaults on civil liberties including mass incarceration SWAT teams and random drug sweeps A second factor that infects every aspect of the War on Drugs is racism the widespread stereotyping of drug traffickers as African Americans and Latinos These issues and more are explored in this book that lays bare what the media largely ignores

Stevens, Frank Kunstel, Charles Hardy, Mark Pinsky, Linda Williams, David Nevin, Robert Bills, Pamela George, Meyer Weinberg, Leon Hall, James Lyons, Kenneth Clark, Hayes Mizell, Before it was over they fired him from the little schoolhouse at which he had taught devotedly for ten years And they fired his wife and two of his sisters and a niece And they threatened him with bodily harm And they sued him on trumped up charges and convicted him in a kangaroo court and left him with a judgment that denied him credit from any bank And they burned his house to the ground while the fire department stood around watching the flames consume the night And they stoned the church at which he pastored And fired shotguns at him out of the dark But he was not Job and so he fired back and called the police who did not come and kept not coming Then he fled driving north at eighty five miles an hour over country roads until he was across the state line Soon after they burned his church to the ground and charged him for having shot back that night with felonious assault with a deadly weapon and so he became an official fugitive from justice In time the governor of his state announced they would not pursue this minister who had caused all the trouble and said of him Good riddance

Caught Marie Gottschalk, 2016-02-16 A major reappraisal of crime and punishment in America The huge prison buildup of the past four decades has few defenders yet reforms to reduce the numbers of those incarcerated have been remarkably modest Meanwhile an ever widening carceral state has sprouted in the shadows extending its reach far beyond the prison gate It sunders families and communities and reworks conceptions of democracy rights and citizenship posing a formidable political and social challenge In Caught Marie Gottschalk examines why the carceral state remains so tenacious in the United States She analyzes the shortcomings of the two dominant penal reform strategies one focused on addressing racial disparities the other on seeking bipartisan race neutral solutions centered on reentry justice reinvestment and reducing recidivism With a new preface evaluating the effectiveness of recent proposals to reform mass incarceration Caught offers a bracing appraisal of the politics of penal reform

Race and Education in New Orleans Walter Stern, 2018-05-04 Surveying the two centuries that preceded Jim Crow s demise Race and Education in New Orleans traces the course of the city s education system from the colonial period to the start of school desegregation in 1960 This timely historical analysis reveals that public schools in New Orleans both suffered from and maintained the racial stratification that characterized urban areas for much of the twentieth century Walter C Stern begins his account with the mid eighteenth century kidnapping and enslavement of Marie Justine Sirnir who eventually secured her freedom and played a major role in the development of free black education in the Crescent City As Sirnir s story and legacy illustrate schools such as the one she envisioned were central to the black antebellum understanding of race citizenship and urban development Black communities fought tirelessly to gain better access to education which gave rise to new strategies by white civilians and officials who worked to maintain and strengthen the racial status quo even as they conceded to demands from the black community for expanded educational opportunities The friction between black and white New Orleanians continued throughout the nineteenth century and well into the twentieth when conflicts over land and resources sharply intensified Stern argues that the post Reconstruction reorganization of the city into distinct black and white enclaves marked a new phase in the evolution of racial disparity segregated schools gave rise to segregated communities which in turn created structural inequality in housing that impeded desegregation's capacity to promote racial justice By taking a long view of the interplay between education race and urban change Stern underscores the fluidity of race as a social construct and the extent to which the Jim Crow system evolved through a dynamic though often improvisational process A vital and accessible history Race and Education in New Orleans provides a comprehensive look at the ways the New Orleans school system shaped the city's racial and urban landscapes
