Whiteness and White Privilege in Psychotherapy Andrea Dottolo, Ellyn Kaschak, 2018-02-02 This unprecedented interdisciplinary collection focuses on gender whiteness and white privilege and sheds light on this understudied subject matter in the context of clinical psychology in both theories and applications Psychologists especially therapists are often trained to look for issues that are not readily visible cannot be spoken and that are commonly taken for granted Feminist and multi cultural researchers and practitioners further seek to expose the power structures that benefit them or that unfairly advantage some groups over others Whiteness has been investigated by sociologists and critical race theorists but has been largely overlooked by psychologists and psychotherapists even those who deal with feminist and multi cultural issues This volume explores the ways in which gender whiteness and white privilege intersect in the therapy room bringing to light that which is often unseen and thus unnamed while examining issues of epistemology theory supervision and practice in feminist therapies The various contributions encompass theory history empirical research personal reflections and practical teaching strategies for the classroom The authors remind us that whiteness and other forms of privilege are situated among multiple other forces structures identities and experiences and cannot be examined alone without context This book was originally published as a special issue of Women Therapy

A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the

1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse Using Reflection and Metacognition to Improve Student Learning Naomi Silver, Matthew Kaplan, Danielle LaVaque-Manty, Deborah Meizlish, 2023-07-03 Research has identified the importance of helping students develop the ability to monitor their own comprehension and to make their thinking processes explicit and indeed demonstrates that metacognitive teaching strategies greatly improve student engagement with course material This book by presenting principles that teachers in higher education can put into practice in their own classrooms explains how to lay the ground for this engagement and help students become self regulated learners actively employing metacognitive and reflective strategies in their education Key elements include embedding metacognitive instruction in the content matter being explicit about the usefulness of metacognitive activities to provide the incentive for students to commit to the extra effort as well as following through consistently Recognizing that few teachers have a deep understanding of metacognition and how it functions and still fewer have developed methods for integrating it into their curriculum this book offers a hands on user friendly guide for implementing metacognitive and reflective pedagogy in a range of disciplines Offering seven practitioner examples from the sciences technology engineering and mathematics STEM fields the social sciences and the humanities along with sample syllabi course materials and student examples this volume offers a range of strategies for incorporating these pedagogical approaches in college classrooms as well as theoretical rationales for the strategies presented By providing successful models from courses in a broad spectrum of disciplines the editors and contributors reassure readers that they need not reinvent the wheel or fear the unknown but can instead adapt tested interventions that aid learning and have been shown to improve both instructor and student satisfaction and engagement Reflective Practice, Third Edition Sara Horton-Deutsch, Gwen Sherwood, 2023-10-31 The third edition of Reflective Practice depicts the concept of reimagining in
