Changing the Story Gayle Greene, 1992-01-22 Changing the Story gives an excellent and well informed account of the differences between the American Canadian British and French attitudes towards feminism and feminist fiction and literary theory a very readable book which reminds us that literature can change us and that through it we can change ourselves Margaret Drabble A distinctive contribution clear elegant precise and well read to the feminist discussion of narrative of Anglo Canadian white North American novelists and to contemporary fiction Greene tracks how feminist novelists draw upon and negotiate with traditional narrative patterns and how their critical approach implicates and provokes social change The book brings us to an intelligent post humanism which does not scant the social meanings of metafictional critique And in addition this book remembers hope Rachel Blau DuPlessis Changing the Story is an invaluable guide to the feminist classics of the last three decades This is cultural criticism at its best engaged re visionary and politically astute Nancy K Miller Greene tells a very good tale about how feminist fiction emerged developed made changes in the world and now threatens to wane The Women s Review of Books Her probing analysis should captivate general readers as well as academics WLW Journal Changing the Story is an important work of feminist criticism certain to spark controversy within the feminist community American Literature The feminist fiction movement of the 1960s 1980s was and is as significant a movement as Modernism Gayle Greene focuses on the works of Doris Lessing Margaret Drabble Margaret Atwood and Margaret Laurence to trace the roots of this feminist literary explosion She also speculates on the future of feminist fiction in the current regressive period of post feminism American Humanities Index ,1985-08 The American Humanities Index Stephen H. Goode,1987 Quarry ,1984 Northbound Leona Gom,1984 The Y Chromosome Leona Gom,2019-05-11 The Y Chromosome challenges the reader to meet an all woman society of the future The few remaining men live in hiding When one of these men is discovered the resulting conflict threatens both worlds The futurist society was developed by necessity and is far from perfect but it now abhors its male dominated past where violence escalated to an extreme The journals of a man who lived during The Change reveal the desperate turmoil and anger of a world facing the extinction of half its members The journals are now part of university history courses leading to assessments of the past that are both ironic and disturbing Despite its striking differences to our world today there are uncomfortable similarities Taut and gripping a page turner at its very best the novel asks important and fundamental questions about who we are as women and men and what we will do to survive Originally written and published thirty years ago to enthusiastic reviews The Y Chromosome is even more relevant today Canadian Periodical Index ,1992 For a Living Nicholas Coles,Peter Oresick,1995 In this companion volume to their anthology Working Classics Nicholas Coles and Peter Oresick present poems written in the 1980s and 1990s that address the nature and culture of nonindustrial work white collar domestic clerical technical managerial or professional They cross lines of status class and gender and range from mopping floors to television news reporting Wall Street brokerage and raising children      Arithmetic of Surrender Tana Runyan, 2007 In the first collection of poetry from Tanya Runyan scenes of remembrance expose the landscape of family life Each poem is a sacrificial canvas depicting a persistent and influential moment in the life of a young daughter as she grows up to be a sister lover poet wife and mother who pleads forgiveness from her parents now that they in accordance with the world's pulse are preparing to die      Hating Gladys Leona Gom, 2002 Gladys Pratt was in control the mistress of her own domain In the sixties she and her husband were running a lodge in a remote area of the Yukon Communication to the outside world was by mail if it got out Gladys was a tyrant Deeply unhappy in her own life she made life miserable for everyone around her her house keeper her cooks and the young women who worked as her waitresses during the summer months Kendy and Elke were two of them fresh out of high school and heading to university they anticipated earning enough money to pay their first semester's tuition Elke was shy and timid new at waitressing and often the butt of Gladys's wrath But Kendy was more confident and found the courage to stand up to Gladys and for that Gladys's punishment was devastating Flash forward Vancouver 2000 Kendy is a successful entrepreneur and Elke a university professor One summer day Elke spots Gladys on the bus She's shocked at seeing Gladys and struggles with the fierce emotions that threaten to engulf her Elke seeks out Kendy neither has forgotten their Yukon summer Kendy thirsts for revenge and draws the reluctant Elke into a plan Hating Gladys is a story of conflicting emotions told from both Elke's and Gladys's points of view Their disparate voices weave a story of wit and irony humour and anguish Gom explores the damaged lives of younger and older women learning to deal with bitterness and betrayal the destructive impulses of a dangerous hatred and the treacherous but remedial ways of understanding and forgiveness      New Working-Class Studies John Russo, Sherry Lee Linkon, 2018-08-06 We put the working class in all its varieties at the center of our work The new working class studies is not only about the labor movement or about workers of any particular kind or workers in any particular place even in the workplace Instead we ask questions about how class works for people at work at home and in the community We explore how class both unites and divides working class people which highlights the importance of understanding how class shapes and is shaped by race gender ethnicity and place We reflect on the common interests as well as the divisions between the most commonly imagined version of the working class industrial blue collar workers and workers in the new economy whose work and personal lives seem at first glance to place them solidly in the middle class from the Introduction In John Russo and Sherry Lee Linkon's book contributors trace the origins of the new working class studies explore how it is being developed both within and across fields and identify key themes and issues Historians economists geographers sociologists and scholars of literature and cultural studies introduce many and varied aspects of this emerging field Throughout they consider how the study of working class life transforms traditional disciplines and stress the importance of popular and artistic representations of working class life      In Visible Ink Aritha Van Herk, 1991 Aritha van Herk explores other texts other bodies other moments arising from the otheredness of the writer in the uneasy position of critic History, Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies Alison Calder, Robert Wardhaugh, 2005-05-16 The Canadian Prairie has long been represented as a timeless and unchanging location defined by settlement and landscape Now a new generation of writers and historians challenge that perception and argue instead that it is a region with an evolving culture and history In a collection of ten essays History Literature and the Writing of the Canadian Prairies explores a more contemporary prairie identity and reconfigures the prairie as a construct that is non linear and diverse responding to the impact of geographical historical and political currents These writers explore the connections between document and imagination between history and culture and between geography and time The subjects of the essays range widely the non linear structure of Carol Shield s The Stone Diaries the impact of Aberhart s Social Credit Marshall McLuhan and Mesopotamian myth on Robert Kroetsch s prairie postmodernism the role of document in long prairie poems the connection between cultural tourism and heritage the theme of regeneration in Margaret Laurence s Manawaka writing the influence of imagination on geography in Thomas Wharton s Icefields and the effects on an alpine climber of pre WWII ideological concepts of time and individualism Tesseract 3 Candace Jane Dorsey, Gerry Truscott, 1990 In this third anthology of modern Canadian speculative fiction explore new worlds of alternate realities in time and space by new and established Canadian authors Travel to a planet where the five senses are not good enough watch a baseball game on Mars fly with Garuda the king of birds to see what kind of human folly he can find to amuse the gods visit a laundromat that can take you anywhere in space and time stroll through a holograph of the last forest on earth see if time will end with a jolt or a gradual slide Tesseract 3 includes works from authors Dave Duncan Charles de Lint Hugo and Nebula award winner William Gibson and Margaret Atwood winner of the Giller Prize the Governor Generals Award and the Arthur C Clarke Award for Science Fiction Double Negative Leona Gom, 1998 Vicky Bauer s life is already complicated Her brief career as a film scholar has been replaced by difficult stints as a substitute teacher Vicky s husband is in a semicomatose and her estranged father has suddenly become dependent on her In the midst of this decidedly troubled existence a series of unrelated events further complicate Vicky s life For some reason people who have caused Vicky difficulties are now the subjects of acts of violence Moreover Vicky has a new neighbour to whom she is extremely attracted His young son however seems troubled and destructive in stark contrast to his affectionate twin sister Much more than a mystery Double Negative uses the genre to pose questions about guilt family abuse and violence and the complexities of life s important relationships Index of American Periodical Verse 1984 Rafael Catalá, James D. Anderson, 1986 The Index of American Periodical Verse is an important work for contemporary poetry research and is an objective measure of poetry that includes poets from the United States Canada and the Caribbean as well as other lands cultures and times It reveals trends in the output of particular poets and the cultural influences they represent The publications indexed cover a broad cross section of poetry literary scholarly popular general and little magazines journals and reviews Poets Talk Pauline Butling, Susan Rudy, 2005-01-15 This is a book that takes on the hard questions about the role of poets in society together with the challenges of reading difficult poetry Using the relaxed format of the personal interview Butling and Rudy open doors to some of the most challenging and important poetry of the 1990s Robert Kroetsch talks about his dread of systems and his subversive use of sub literary forms Erin Mour and Daphne Marlatt discuss the feminist trajectories in their work how to jump circuits and activate alternative networks Dionne Brand links her poetics to Marxist politics and Pan African liberation movements Annharte explains her use of humour to de program Native people Jeff Derksen wants to disarticulate and rearticulate linguistic and social systems while Fred Wah emphasizes the role of poetry in changing how we see the world      Strings Paul B. Janeczko,1984 A collection of 125 modern poems based on the poets experiences of family life as parents children brothers and sisters husbands and wives cousins nieces and nephews and grandchildren      The Antigoniish Review ,1981      Prism International ,1985
