Patient voices in Britain, 1840-1948 Anne Hanley, Jessica Meyer, 2021-09-07 Historians have long engaged with Roy Porter's call for histories that incorporate patients voices and experiences But despite concerted methodological efforts there has simply not been the degree and breadth of innovation that Porter envisaged Patients voices still often remain obscured This has resulted in part from assumptions about the limitations of archives many of which are formed of institutional records written from the perspective of health professionals Patient voices in Britain repositions patient experiences at the centre of healthcare history using new types of sources and reading familiar sources in new ways Focusing on military medicine Poor Law medicine disability psychiatry and sexual health this collection encourages historians to tackle the ethical challenges of using archival material and to think more carefully about how their work might speak to persistent health inequalities and challenges in health service delivery Science and Technology for Environmental Cleanup at Hanford National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Radioactive Waste Management, Committee on the Review of the Hanford Site's Environmental Remediation Science and Technology Plan, 2001-11-23 The Hanford Site was established by the federal government in 1943 as part of the secret wartime effort to produce plutonium for nuclear weapons. The site operated for about four decades and produced roughly two thirds of the 100 metric tons of plutonium in the U S inventory. Millions of cubic meters of radioactive and chemically hazardous wastes the by product of plutonium production were stored in tanks and ancillary facilities at the site or disposed or discharged to the subsurface the atmosphere or the Columbia River. In the late 1980s the primary mission of the Hanford Site changed from plutonium production to environmental restoration. The federal government through the U S Department of Energy DOE began to invest human and financial resources to stabilize and where possible remediate the legacy of environmental contamination created by the defense mission. During the past few years this financial investment has exceeded 1 billion annually DOE which is responsible for cleanup of the entire weapons complex estimates that the cleanup program at Hanford will last until at least 2046 and will cost U S taxpayers on the order of 85 billion. Science and Technology for Environmental Cleanup at Hanford provides background information on the Hanford Site and its Integration Project discusses the System Assessment Capability an Integration Project developed risk assessment tool to estimate quantitative effects of contaminant releases and reviews the technical elements of the scierovides programmatic level recommendations.

Louisiana Agriculture, 1977 Henry's Clinical Diagnosis and Management by Laboratory Methods John Bernard Henry, 2007 Rev ed of Clinical diagnosis and management by laboratory methods edited by John Bernard Henry 20th ed c2001 Diversity in Intellectual Property Irene Calboli, Srividhya Ragavan, 2015-05-28 This book aims to create an interface between intellectual property and diversity including cultural biological religious racial and gender based diversity. While acknowledging that the historical rationale for intellectual property protection is based on theories of utilitarian incentives and property rights the authors of this volume assert that the current intellectual property framework is not incompatible with including diversity as part of its objectives. Through its various themes this book delves into the debate of whether such inclusion can be made possible and how intellectual property norms could be effectively used to protect and promote diversity. In this volume leading scholars address ongoing regional national and international debates within the contexts of diversity the existing legal framework and the broader political and economic climate. The authors tackle such wide ranging topics as the prohibition against trademarking slurs and concepts of intellectual property in ancient Indian texts.
