Resources in Education ,1996      Measurement and Statistics for Teachers Malcolm Van Blerkom, 2008-10-27 Written in a student friendly style Measurement and Statistics for Teachers shows teachers how to use measurement and statistics wisely in their classes Although there is some discussion of theory emphasis is given to the practical everyday uses of measurement and statistics The second part of the text provides more complete coverage of basic descriptive statistics and their use in the classroom than in any text now available Comprehensive and accessible Measurement and Statistics for Teachers includes Short vignettes showing concepts in action Numerous classroom examples Highlighted vocabulary Boxes summarizing related concepts End of chapter exercises and problems Six full chapters devoted to the essential topic of Classroom Tests Instruction on how to carry out informal assessments performance assessments and portfolio assessments and how to use and interpret standardized tests A five chapter section on Descriptive Statistics giving instructors the option of more thoroughly teaching basic measurement constructs such as validity reliability and score reporting      Science Teacher Educators as K-12 Teachers Michael Dias, Charles J. Eick, Laurie Brantley-Dias, 2013-07-08 Science teacher educators prepare and provide professional development for teachers at all grade levels They seek to improve conditions in classroom teaching and learning professional development and teacher recruitment and retention Science Teacher Educators as K 12 Teachers Practicing What We Teach tells the story of sixteen teacher educators who stepped away from their traditional role and entered the classroom to teach children and adolescents in public schools and informal settings It details the practical and theoretical insights that these members of the Association of Science Teacher Educators ASTE earned from experiences ranging from periodic guest teaching to full time engagement in the teaching role Science Teacher Educators as K 12 Teachers shows science teacher educators as professionals engaged in reflective analysis of their beliefs about and experiences with teaching children or adolescents science With their ideas about instruction and learning challenged these educators became more aware of the circumstances today's teachers face. Their honest accounts reveal that through teaching children and adolescents, teacher educators can also renew themselves and expand their identities as well as their understanding of themselves in the profession and in relation to others.

Science Teacher Educators as K-12 Teachers will appeal to all those with an interest in science education, from teacher educators to science teachers as well as teacher educators in other disciplines. Its narratives and insights may even inspire more teacher educators to envision new opportunities to serve teachers, K-12 learners, and the local community through a variety of teaching arrangements in public schools and informal education settings.

Research in Education, 1974     Engaging Readers Dana A. Robertson, Evelyn Ford-Connors, Susan Dougherty, 2017-03-17

An important goal of teachers is to get all students, especially those in the upper elementary and middle grades who struggle with academic work, engaged in reading. This book examines current research on instructional principles and actions related to engaged reading. It shows how teachers can translate this research into evidence-based actions that promote productive instructional contexts and focus students' purposeful use of literacy in acquiring knowledge. The authors integrate descriptions of principles and actions with concrete examples of classroom instruction and thematic teaching across disciplinary contexts and demonstrate how teachers might mediate students' reading of complex texts. The book provides readers with a vivid picture of the complexities of teaching reading in the upper elementary and middle grades. In particular, the book blends individual principles and practices into a holistic approach to creating productive and engaged learning environments for all upper elementary and middle grade learners.

The Journal of Education, 1885     Curriculum Review, 1983     Succeeding with Standards Judy F. Carr, Douglas E. Harris, 2001-04-15

In many schools and districts, the local curriculum is a hodgepodge of individual initiatives knit together by collective good intentions. Succeeding with Standards: Linking Curriculum, Assessment, and Action Planning describes a practical, school-tested solution to the challenge of creating a curriculum. Building on their work in How to Use Standards in the Classroom, Judy F. Carr and Douglas E. Harris describe a comprehensive process by which schools and districts can turn piecemeal initiatives into a coherent plan. Carr and Harris draw on extensive experience with schools across the United States and groundbreaking work in Vermont to depict the standards-linking process. They describe how to create a curriculum and assessment plan, define effective practice, create a comprehensive assessment system, map out a path to success through action planning, and consider how to approach reporting results and professional development in a standards-based environment. Improved student performance is the centerpiece of all these standards-linking processes. Carr and Harris emphasize this point clearly, keeping Standards Linking in the context of bettering academic performance for all children. Plentiful figures and examples highlight Carr and Harris's insights and advice. An extensive glossary and helpful list of selected resources round out the volume.
