Colón Semenza,Garrett A. Sullivan Jr.,2023-09-07 A focused study on Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger s cinematic contributions to the war effort arguing for the centrality of propaganda to their work as film artists Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger are widely hailed as two of the greatest filmmakers in British cinema history The release of their first movie The Spy in Black barely preceded the beginning of World War Two and a number of their early masterworks including The Life and Death of Colonel Blimp, A Canterbury Tale and A Matter of Life and Death were produced in the service of the war effort. Through exploring the relationship between art and propaganda this book shows that Powell and Pressburger saw no contradiction between their aesthetic ambitions and their cinematic war work. Propaganda imperatives were highly conducive to their objectives as both commercial cinema practitioners and artists. Drawing on production materials from the archives of the British Film Institute this book charts three phases in Powell and Pressburger's wartime career from first time collaborators who strive to reconcile popular cinematic forms with developing notions of what constitutes effective propaganda to accomplished and sometimes controversial propagandists whose movies center upon Britain's relations with its enemies and allies to filmmakers whose responsiveness to the propaganda requirements of the late war is matched by a focus shared by the Ministry of Information on what the post war future would bring.

Seven Librarian Detective Series Bobby Cinema, 2014-10-09. Bobby Cinema has written seven detective stories in one book about each different character going through solving a difficult case, being in the action and deal with real intensive stuff they had to go through from solving cases. For these seven ordinary detectives and their team their work usually ends up in a library which is their sanctuary and a place to read and relax at the same time. The first detective series is called Raymond Librarian. PI Ray Levenstein, a former FBI agent, took over the head librarian job from his friend Jerry who helped him get in the LAPD police academy and became his mentor when he grew up. He was forced into retirement when he was shot in the line of fire when he was a FBI agent. Ray was well respected and highly decorated as an FBI agent but he decided to retire at a young age of thirty five. He took over Jerry's job as a head librarian in the Los Angeles Public Library and decided to run a detective agency in his library since he has a PI license. He hires Kevin Sandler, Nick Arbuckle and Alyson Harris who joined the PI team. Thank you for reading the Seven Librarian Detective series. I hope you enjoy reading them. Who knows maybe I can come up with another princess story in another time. This is my seventh book that I turn my seven librarian detective stories in one book. See you next time and the library is now closed. Good bye.
