New Backgrounds: the Immigrant Child at Home and at School Robin Oakley, 1968 Violence in South Asia Pavan Kumar Malreddy, Anindya Sekhar Purakayastha, Birte Heidemann, 2019-11-06 This volume explores new perspectives on contemporary forms of violence in South Asia Drawing on extensive fieldwork and case studies it examines the infiltration of violence at the societal level and affords a comparative regional analysis of its historical cultural and geopolitical origins in South Asia Featuring essays from Sri Lanka to Nepal and from Afghanistan to Burma it sheds light on issues as wide ranging as lynching and mob justice hate speech caste violence gender based violence and the plight of the Rohingyas among others Lucid and engaging this book will be an invaluable source of reference as well as scholarship to students and researchers of postcolonial studies anthropology sociology cultural geography minority studies politics and gender studies Migrants and Refugees Patricia Jeffery, 1976-07-08 This study analyses the immigration of Muslim and Christian Pakistani families coming into Britain Desi Land Shalini Shankar, 2008-10-27 An ethnography of South Asian American teenagers in Silicon Valley

Pakistani Women Sadaf Ahmad, Ali Khan, 2010 Pakistani Women attempts to capture some of the diversity to help move away from the homogenous images of Pakistani women that prevail in their representation in much of the world The different chapters cover an entire range of localities from rural to urban settings and from small town to diaspora Most of the chapters are driven by ethnographic data while some are more theoretical Yet despite this diversity of place and approach a number of cross cutting themes emerge themes that play a critical role in encouraging the reader to recognize the similarity and diversity of Pakistani women s experiences within a culture made up of a variety of ideologies that are often in conflict with each other Pakistan International Labour Organisation, 1982 Project report and recommendations on vocational training pilot projects for rural women in Pakistan discusses the existing facilities and includes advice on training programmes curriculum development teaching methods etc Map references and statistical tables The Christians of Pakistan Linda Walbridge, 2012-10-12 In May 1998 John Joseph the first native Pakistani Catholic bishop shot himself in front of the courthouse where a Christian had been sentenced to death for blasphemy This book tells the story of the Christians in Pakistan with Bishop Joseph as its centrepiece It is an account of outcastes who sought hope through Christianity but who now find themselves victims of a struggle to define Islam in Pakistan The majority of Pakistani Christians are descendants of untouchables converted to Christianity in the late 19th century In Pakistan a minority religion is linked with low status perpetuating the Indian Hindu caste system even though the Muslim majority has disassociated itself from all things Hindu and Indian The book also deals with enculturation in the Pakistani church the rise of native clergy conflicts between the local church and Rome the rise of fundamentalist Islam and the position of women in society and church Transnational Pakistani Connections Katharine Charsley, 2013-11-12 Since restrictions on commonwealth labour immigration to Britain in the 1960s marriage has been the dominant form of migration between Pakistan and the UK Most transnational Pakistani marriages are between cousins or other more distant relatives lending a particular texture to this transnational social field. Based on research in Britain and Pakistan this book provides a rounded portrayal incorporating the emotional motivations for and content of these transnational unions. The book explores the experiences of families and individuals involved including the neglected experiences of migrant husbands and charts the management of the risks of contracting transnational marriages as well as examining the consequences in cases when marriages run into conflict. Equally however the book explores the attractions of marrying back home and the role of transnational marriage in maintaining bonds between people and places. Marriage emerges as a crucial but dynamic and contested element of Pakistani transnational connections. This book is of interest to students and scholars in the fields of migration studies, kinship, the family and South Asian studies as well as social work, family law and immigration.

Interdisciplinarity, Multidisciplinarity and Transdisciplinarity in Humanities Eugene Steele, 2016-02-29. The domination of single subjects in academic programmes and institutions has recently been called into question. Literary studies are currently opening themselves up to the epistemological renewal that other fields can offer. They are increasingly borrowing theoretical tools from other subjects in order to analyse the historical, socio-political and institutional conditions of the production of literary texts to identify the general discursive circumstances in which they emerge and to study the relationship between literature and other media. Similarly, while subjects such as sociology, history and political science have always been closely related, if not literally spinoffs from one another, as in the case of sociology vis-à-vis anthropology, what becomes of their specificities when they borrow from geography to address space-related issues, from psychology to understand social actors, individual motivations or from literary studies to make sense of individual or collective narratives? The present volume accounts for experiments in research that overstep disciplinary boundaries by analysing the new fields and methodologies emerging in the contemporary globalised academic environment which puts a strong premium on synergism and linkages. Moreover, it assesses current theoretical reflections on inter-, multi- and transdisciplinarity as well as research grounded in it and measures their impact on the evolution of scholarship and curriculum in the fields of literature, language and humanities.

Feminism and Global Justice Kerry Carrington, 2014-10-17. In this book Kerry Carrington takes a bold, critical and reflexive approach to understanding the global divisions and inequalities that shape distinctive patterns of gender and crime. The book argues that in order for feminist criminology to enhance its conceptual and political relevance in the twenty-first century, bold new directions in scholarship on gender, crime and global justice are required that also take into account global divisions and inequalities. Issues explored in the book include the forced marriage of child brides, female genital mutilation, feminicide, honour crimes, rape and domestic violence, and the systemic denial of female rights justified by religion, custom or culture. It also explores rising rates of violence recorded for women offenders globally and their increasing participation in terrorism, as well as troubling male-on-male violence in anomic spaces cultivated by globalising forces. Feminism and Global Justice argues that the world needs feminism.

more than ever to address systemic culturally shaped and diverse forms of injustice experienced by females across the globe many of them children It will be essential reading for international and national human rights organisations as well as academics and students engaged in the study of criminology development studies sociology politics and gender studies

Contemporary Pakistani Fiction in English Cara Cilano,2013-04-12 Looking at a wide selection of Pakistani novels in English this book explores how literary texts imaginatively probe the past convey the present and project a future in terms that facilitate a sense of collective belonging The novels discussed cover a range of historical movements and developments including pre 20th century Islamic history the 1947 partition the 1971 Pakistani war the Zia years and post 9 11 Pakistan as well as pervasive themes including ethnonationalist tensions the zamindari system and conspiracy thinking The book offers a range of representations of how and whether collective belonging takes shape and illustrates how the Pakistani novel in English often overshadowed by the proliferation of the Indian novel in English complements Pakistani multi lingual literary imaginaries by presenting alternatives to standard versions of history and by highlighting the issues English language literary production bring to the fore in a broader Pakistani context It goes on to look at the literary devices and themes used to portray idea nation and state as a foundation for collective belonging The book illustrates the distinct contributions the Pakistani novel in English makes to the larger fields of postcolonial and South Asian literary and cultural studies Hot

Family Upheaval Mikkel Rytter, 2013-06-01 Pakistani migrant families in Denmark find themselves in a specific ethno national post 9 11 environment where Muslim immigrants are subjected to processes of non recognition exclusion and securitization This ethnographic study explores how why and at what costs notions of relatedness identity and belonging are being renegotiated within local families and transnational kinship networks Each entry point concerns the destructive productive constitution of family life where neglected responsibilities obligations and trust lead not only to broken relationships but also and inevitably to the innovative creation of new ones By connecting the micro politics of the migrant family with the macro politics of the nation state and global conjunctures in general the book argues that securitization and suspicion launched in the name of integration escalate internal community dynamics and processes of family upheaval in unpredicted ways

Dalit Text Judith Misrahi-Barak, K. Satyanarayana, Nicole Thiara, 2019-06-18 This book companion to the much acclaimed Dalit Literatures in India examines questions of aesthetics and literary representation in a wide range of Dalit literary texts It looks at how Dalit literature born from the struggle against social and political injustice invokes the rich and complex legacy of oral folk and performative traditions of marginalised voices The essays and interviews systematically explore a range of literary forms from autobiographies memoirs and other testimonial narratives to poems novels or short stories foregrounding the diversity of Dalit creation Showcasing the interplay between the aesthetic and political for a genre of writing that has change as its goal the volume aims to make Dalit writing more accessible to a wider public for the Dalit voices to be heard and understood The volume also shows how the genre has revolutionised the concept of what literature is supposed to mean and define Effervescent first person accounts socially militant activism and sharp critiques of a little explored literary terrain make this essential reading for scholars and researchers of social exclusion and discrimination studies literature especially comparative literature translation studies politics human rights and culture studies

Say you'll Wait for Me, A Memoir Samantha Rosalia, 2023-11-09 Being the owner of vast stretches of land in certain areas of Pakistan meant you could marry the most beautiful girl of any nearby village a devout Muslim woman from an affluent family born of a traditional Hindu caste and the eldest daughter of a neighboring landlord Looking back in writing this now I think about all the people who were supposed to care about me who had bad intentions related to why they claimed to welcome me as an American never bothering to fill me in as to the reasons why I traveled to Pakistan I found myself in a strange new land left to raise Sameer and Asad without a father Thrust into a world of strangers disguised as well meaning relatives extending a hand to greet me as a foreigner from the United States I found myself standing in the middle of a deserted field trying not to see Daniyal in new relatives offering flowers and Muslim prayers of protection in Urdu I was no longer called by my birth name Samantha but morphed into a Pakistani woman known only by my Muslim name Kasra Say You ll Wait for Me is my first book based on a true to life experience of meeting and marrying an immigrant from a rural village area of Ganish Pakistan As I struggle to fit in with a large eccentric joint family as a foreigner from Louisiana who knows next to nothing about Pakistani customs haphazard attempts at blending in with my Muslim family turn into a series of cultural blunders and missteps Secretive in laws appear as well meaning family members offering Muslim prayers revealing a series of family betrayals and secrets surrounding an ongoing legal case in Karachi Pakistan involving the acquisition of ancestral property A territorial dispute in Karachi Pakistan spirals out of control in the form of an ongoing family feud What remains of my time in a rural village area of Ganish is a true story comprised of people who lied to me and a broken promise of a happy life in a foreign country that existed in a past memory The beginning of our financial issues began more than five years ago over a valuable piece of property in Karachi The most tragic part of my real life experience about marrying a Pakistani wasn t that years later I had come to find out my immigrant husband s ancestral land had been stolen from him and he could no longer return to his birth country I prayed for the land to be returned to its rightful owner Say You ll Wait for Me
