

The background is a light beige color. In the upper right, there is a large, tilted rectangle divided into four quadrants of different shades: white, light brown, dark brown, and white. To the right of this rectangle, a black, brush-like shape points downwards. A thick red vertical line runs down the right side of the page, ending in a small red circular base. On the left side, there are several horizontal and vertical lines in green and blue, some with small black circles at their ends, resembling a circuit or a stylized map.
