

Procedure Codes for RPM in Pain Management

Before we list down procedure codes for RPM in pain management, let's understand basics of Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) in pain management and it's reimbursement challenges.

Basics of Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) in Pain Management

Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) is a technology-enabled healthcare delivery approach that allows healthcare providers to remotely monitor patients' health status in real-time through digital devices. RPM is increasingly being used in pain management to improve patient outcomes by providing clinicians with more accurate and timely data on patients' pain levels and treatment responses. RPM for pain management typically involves patients wearing wearable sensors that track vital signs, activity levels, and other indicators of pain, such as facial expressions and vocalizations. This data is transmitted to healthcare providers who can use it to make more informed decisions about pain management treatments and adjustments.

Reimbursement Challenges for RPM in Pain Management

Remote Patient Monitoring (RPM) has become an increasingly popular way to manage patients with chronic pain. However, there are several insurance reimbursement challenges for RPM in pain management. One of the major challenges is the lack of specific reimbursement codes for RPM. Currently, most insurance companies do not have specific codes for RPM in pain management, which means that providers may not be reimbursed for the service. Another challenge is some insurance plans may have limited coverage for RPM in pain management, or they may only cover certain types of RPM devices.
