

Procedure:

First remove the cap on the advance lever. This can be done with a rubber lens tool as shown, or a rubber bung, turning the cap clockwise. It has a left handed thread.

Apply pressure firmly with the ball of the thumb. If this does not loosen the cap, use a small piece of self amalgamating tape to increase friction. If that fails you should obtain (or make) a 16mm flexiclamp. Alternatively, if you are prepared to spend three-quarters of an hour cleaning it off with a wooden scraper, glue the bung onto the cap with superglue!
