Pop-Up Geometry Joseph O'Rourke, 2022-03-24 Anyone browsing at the stationery store will see an incredible array of pop up cards available for any occasion The workings of pop up cards and pop up books can be remarkably intricate Behind such designs lies beautiful geometry involving the intersection of circles cones and spheres the movements of linkages and other constructions The geometry can be modelled by algebraic equations whose solutions explain the dynamics For example several pop up motions rely on the intersection of three spheres a computation made every second for GPS location Connecting the motions of the card structures with the algebra and geometry reveals abstract mathematics performing tangible calculations Beginning with the nephroid in the 19th century the mathematics of pop up design is now at the frontiers of rigid origami and algorithmic computational complexity All topics are accessible to those familiar with high school mathematics no calculus required Explanations are supplemented by 140 figures and 20 animations

Perspectives in Shape Analysis Michael Breuß, Alfred Bruckstein, Petros Maragos, Stefanie Wührer, 2016-09-30 This book presents recent advances in the field of shape analysis Written by experts in the fields of continuous scale shape analysis discrete shape analysis and sparsity and numerical computing who hail from different communities it provides a unique view of the topic from a broad range of perspectives Over the last decade it has become increasingly affordable to digitize shape information at high resolution Yet analyzing and processing this data remains challenging because of the large amount of data involved and because modern applications such as human computer interaction require real time processing Meeting these challenges requires interdisciplinary approaches that combine concepts from a variety of research areas including numerical computing differential geometry deformable shape modeling sparse data representation and machine learning On the algorithmic side many shape analysis tasks are modeled using partial differential equations which can be solved using tools from the field of numerical computing The fields of differential geometry and deformable shape modeling have recently begun to influence shape analysis methods Furthermore tools from the field of sparse representations which aim to describe input data using a compressible representation with respect to a set of carefully selected basic elements have the potential to significantly reduce the amount of data that needs to be processed in shape analysis tasks The related field of machine learning offers similar potential The goal of the Dagstuhl Seminar on New Perspectives in Shape Analysis held in February 2014 was to address these challenges with the help of the latest tools related to geometric algorithmic and numerical concepts and to bring together researchers at the forefront of shape analysis who can work together to identify open problems and novel solutions The book resulting from this seminar will appeal to researchers in the field of shape analysis image and vision from those who want to become more familiar with the field to experts interested in learning about the latest advances
